SLAIN IN KIDNAP

Found shot and raped in a mountain-top grave Monday was 18-year-old Marjorie Schneider, of Fort Collins, Colo., kidnapped from a car in Lover's Lane by a gunman who has confessed to slaying. (AP Wirephoto). (See story, Page 3.)

Canadian Fishermen Must Quit

Canadian sockeye fishermen, after reaping what will almost certainly be a record crop, have been ordered off the fishing grounds as of 6 p.m. today to enable their U.S. counterparts to catch up.

Decision was made by the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries commission, which strives each year to equalize the catches of Canadian and U.S. fishermen.

Canadians are currently 539,000 fish ahead of the Americans, for a total of over 4,000,000 fish—the greatest catch since the Hell's Gate canyon slide of 1913, possibly the greatest ever.

Closure to Canadians is tantamount to the end of the season, as the run will likely peter out before the closure is lifted.

Waters closed are those on the Canadian side of Juan de Fuca Strait, and the area between Victoria and the mouth of the Fraser on the Canadian side of the boundary.

Murder Try Aboard Ship On High Seas

PLYMOUTH, Eng. (Reuters)—A Royal Navy frigate steamed through the Atlantic at full speed today to a British freighter which reported an attempted murder aboard and called for urgent attention for one of the crew dying from severe wounds.

The master of the London-registered 7,368-ton Brockleymoor radioed from a position well out from southwest Ireland that attempts had been made to murder two Indian members of the crew.

One man was not expected to live and the other had serious concussion.

A suspect was under close arrest, the distress message said.

The admiralty ordered the frigate Orwell, at Plymouth, to go to the Brockleymoor's aid.

The freighter is on the way from Liverpool to the United States in ballast.

Dulles Hints Concessions On Formosa Strait Islands

Key Loss In Maine For Ike

Democrats Capture 4 of 5 Major Seats

(From Times News Services) President Eisenhower today sized up a Democratic sweep in the Maine elections as a Republican Party beating there is no use trying to disguise.

Eisenhower's reaction of disappointment to the victory of Governor Edmund S. Muskie over the incumbent Republican F. E. Payne, was reported by Press Secretary James Hagerty.

Democrats in the state won a United States Senate seat for the first time in 47 years. They also retained the governorship and scored other major triumphs.

The outcome dealt a great blow to Republican hopes for recapturing control of Congress, but Hagerty said Eisenhower hopes "it may help a little in making everybody work a little harder for the November elections."

WHAT ABOUT ADAMS?

Hagerty replied "I don't know—I haven't any comment" when asked what effect, if any, the Democrats' success in Maine would have on the tenure of Sherman Adams as Eisenhower's chief aide.

But a moment later the press secretary indicated once again that he does not look for Adams to leave—willingly or unwillingly—at this time.

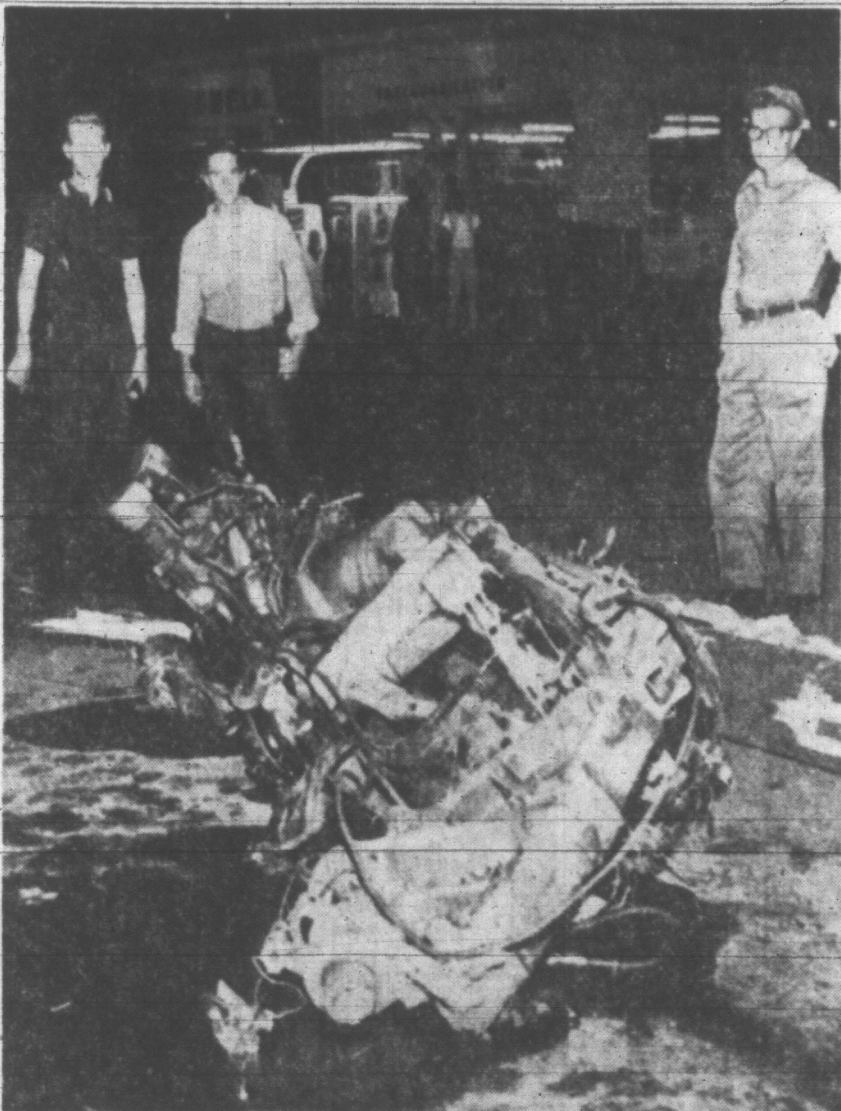

(While the new Senator-elect Muskie had not stressed it during the election campaign there was frequent comment from other sources that Goldfine had lent $3,500 to the defeated Republican Payne toward purchase of a house, gave a vicuna coat to him and paid some of his hotel bills.)

Democrats in Washington hailed their Maine election victory today as proof that voters are "sick of drift and indecision" and ready to repudiate Adams' "favoritism and gift-taking."

Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee said the spectacular party gains in the traditionally Republican state were both a tribute to Democratic candidates and party workers and evidence of "a strong national trend favoring the Democratic party."

The smashing victory, greatest in half a century, pointed the way for the Democrats to enlarge their slender majorities in Congress when the other 47 states vote on Nov. 4. The Republicans have just eight weeks to come up with something to change the trend.

Butler said the Maine results demonstrate the failure of Republican efforts to convince the voters "that unemployment is prosperity, that corruption is honesty, that drift is leadership, that the mess in the Middle East and the Straits of Formosa is peace."

POTENTIAL BOMB

WIRE BRIEFS

Dag Mission Fails

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Diplomatic sources today said Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations has failed to get President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Jordan's King Hussein to agree to a face-saving solution to their dispute.

12 Flee Block Fire

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 12 occupants of a Kitsilano district apartment building fled in their night clothes early today when a refrigerator exploded and a fire resulted in the suite of Mr. and Mrs. Brodie Swan. No cause of the explosion was found and fire was confined to the Swan suite.

Korea Sea Fight

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The South Korean Navy said today it intercepted an armed North Korean vessel off the east coast, killing two men and capturing four others in a gun battle.

A-Sub Study Set

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence production department within six months will begin a study of the economic feasibility and cost of building atomic submarines in Canada.

So This Is Poor?

LONDON (AP)—Prof. W. M. Parker, lecturer in geography at the University of Manitoba, said today he is "convinced" nuclear explosions are causing poor weather in the northern hemisphere.

2 Aboard Lost Plane

EDMONTON (CP)—Five aircraft left here today in search of a Pacific Western Airlines Beaver with two men aboard, overdue on a 40-mile flight in the heavy bushland north of Grand Prairie in the Peace River country. The pilot is Maynard Richard Bolman, 29, of Edmonton. His passenger was unidentified.

13 Die as Jets Crash at Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A B-52 jet bomber sliced into the side of another at sundown Monday night and both crashed in flames near a busy highway. Thirteen of the 16 men aboard were killed.

A 200-pound chunk of landing gear sailed through the air, smashed through a service station sign and skidded to rest on the shoulder of No. 2 Highway, a main link between Spokane and Seattle.

The $8,000,000 B-52s, prime atom bomb carriers of the Strategic Air Command, were making routine landings at Fairchild air force base when they collided about 1,500 feet over the highway.

Joe Martella, a service station attendant, said both planes were turning at the time.

"I looked up when I heard a tremendous roar from the engines of one plane," he said. "The pilot seemed to be trying to get out of the way. Then they hit. The wing of one hit the other right behind the cockpit and it looked like it was cut in two."

12,000 GALLONS

said the station owner, Mike Anderson, who for a few terrifying seconds sat atop a potential bomb.

The station, with 12,000 gallons of gasoline in tanks below the pavement, was scarcely 40 yards away from the pile of burning plane wreckage.

Red China Must Renounce Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles hinted today that the United States is ready to offer concessions if Red China will renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles told a press conference he could not go into details in advance of expected diplomatic talks with Red China at Warsaw.

At the same time, Dulles emphasized again that the U.S. believes it is essential to the free world's "defence posture" in the Far East to maintain a firm stand against Red Chinese threats to conquer Nationalist-held islands in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles indicated that if Red China were to attack today, the U.S. would help the Nationalist defenders, at first logistically and later with American fighting men if the Nationalists were unable to beat back the Communist invaders.

But Dulles refused to spell out precisely what the U.S. would do in any given circumstance.

And he stressed that despite the tension he expects no war. He acknowledged, however, that the situation could be compared with Korea and the blockade of Berlin.

Dulles told reporters U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw got in touch today with Red China's Ambassador Wang Pingnan. He said Beam told Wang the U.S. was ready at any time to start talking. No precise date was suggested.

In reply to a question Dulles said the U.S. would seek agreement along detailed specific lines instead of along general lines as in previous fruitless talks with Red China.

Dulles also said:

1. Whether U.S. warships conveying Nationalist supplies would fire back at any Communist assault on them would depend upon whether the attack was accidental or deliberate. If deliberate, the U.S. ships could be expected to take some counter action.

2. United Nations action might be useful to ease Formosa tensions. But he noted Communist China refused four years ago to accept intervention on the grounds the Formosa dispute was a purely internal matter.

3. As of this time, the president has not decided irrevocably to fight for the offshore islands.

Reds Still Pouring Shells on Quemoy

Meanwhile the Communist bombardment of Quemoy crashed on today.

The Nationalist defence minister said the Reds fired a record 53,000 shells at Quemoy in 10 hours 47 minutes up to 12:20 a.m. today.

Then shelling slackened off to sporadic gunfire that continued until dawn, stopped for almost five hours, and resumed with a 1,200-shell barrage in slightly more than three hours.

Peiping radio continued to report millions of Chinese demonstrating on the mainland against the United States.

The official Peiping Peoples' Daily said Red Chinese warnings against U.S. violations of the 12-mile limit were "no empty threats."

A call for Soviet restraint on Communist China was the U.S. reaction to Russian demand of Monday for American withdrawal from the Formosa Strait area.

DR. JOHN REDFORD stricken with appendicitis

Fog Stops Air Rescue At Plateau

A helicopter today was turned back by heavy fog in the Forbidden Plateau area in an attempt to rescue a Victoria hiker stricken with acute appendicitis.

A ground search party of nine airmen from the RCAF Comox base, and one RCMP constable, left at 1 p.m. in an attempt to bring the stricken man out by land.

He is Dr. John Redford, 30, a recent graduate of Mayo Clinic, now attending Washington State College. In Victoria, he and his wife were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Redford, 105 Beach Drive.

Dr. Redford and his brother, Hamish, went hiking on the plateau Sunday, and while at Mackenzie Lake, about 18 miles west of Courtenay, high in the Forbidden Plateau area, John was stricken.

BECAME WORSE

Monday his attack became worse. By good fortune another hiking party of three UBC students, Ruth Orton, Phyllis Calvert, 3107 Balfour, and Pat Gill, all of Victoria, came upon them, Miss Orton and Miss Calvert are student nurses.

They stayed with John at a cabin near the lake while Hamish and Miss Gill tramped the seven miles out to Forbidden Plateau Lodge for help.

They reached the lodge at 4 a.m. today.

RCMP at Courtenay were informed, and they requested Okanagan Helicopters in Vancouver to send a machine to Dr. Redford's rescue.

The copter was escorted across Georgia Strait by an RCAF Canso, and landed at Comox air base. It took off at 11 a.m., with pilots Bob Poole at the controls, and Sgt. Neil Lacroix, RCAF, as guide.

At 11:20 a.m., the machine passed over Forbidden Plateau Lodge, but visibility was so bad the pilot could not proceed.

He returned to Comox at 11:40 a.m., and arrangements were made immediately to start a ground rescue.

The rescue party is led by Sgt. Lacroix, and is equipped with a stretcher and first aid equipment.

It is estimated it will take at least six hours to complete the rescue.

Earliest estimated time of arrival back at base would be 8 p.m., an RCMP spokesman said.

RCAF doctors are ready for action when the party returns, and they will decide whether or not he is to be transferred to another hospital, or will be treated in the air base sick bay.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our gracious Lord, in a world where everything changes, we would pray Thee to open our eyes continually to the eternal verities that are at the very heart of the universe and afford us hope in this world and the world to come. Help us to lean steadily upon Thine everlasting arms of love and find in them the security we need; in Jesus' name. Amen.

Two Injured in Fire Aboard HMCS Cayuga

Fire in the No. 1 boiler room of HMCS Cayuga shortly after 6 a.m. today resulted in injuries to two petty officers in the engine room of the destroyer.

Breaking away from exercises in the area, the Cayuga rushed the injured men to the Nanaimo General Hospital.

Injured were: PO Gerald McDormand, 40, of 406 Prileane Crescent, Belmont, and PO William Robert Osecki, 28, of 901 Metehosin Street.

Naval medical authorities here report the burns were not described as serious.

An ambulance was dispatched from the local naval base to bring the two men to the HMCS Naden Hospital today.

The destroyer continued with her exercises after the mercy mission and will return to Esquimalt Wednesday at 3:30 p.m.

NEWARK, N.J.—Police dispatcher Frank Hughes said a man called him and announced: "I want to make a complaint."

"What kind of a complaint?" asked Hughes.

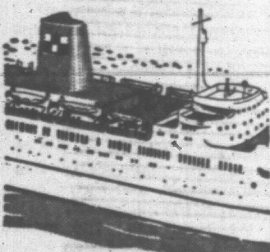

"A complaint of a breaking and entry into a safe in Dugan's. I'd have been in the blank blank thing if my drill hadn't broken," then he hung up.

Police checked the office of Dugan Bros., Incorporated. They found a hole had been smashed in the roof and the combination of the safe knocked off. There was a single drill mark on the safe.

Seaman Faces Formal Charge; Remand Granted

A 24-hour special guard is being kept on murder suspect Leo Anthony Mantha, 31, of 451 Superior, in the city jail as he awaits preliminary hearing.

Mantha is charged with murdering AB Aaron H. Jenkins, 23, as he slept in his bunk at RCN naval barracks, HMCS Naden early Saturday.

Jenkins died in Naden Hospital shortly after 2 a.m., of a stab wound in the upper chest. The accused, who had been employed as a tugboat worker, was formally charged in Esquimalt police court Monday.

Alan Macfarlane, appearing for Mantha, asked for a remand to next Monday afternoon on grounds he had had no opportunity to discuss the case with his client.

It was thought Mantha's preliminary would not be proceeded with until Sept. 22.

INQUEST WAIVED

An inquest into the fatality was waived Monday on instruction by the attorney-general's department.

The navy will hold a routine inquiry, without civil legal status, probably Wednesday.

Mantha was brought into the court room by an Esquimalt police constable, who has been stationed outside the suspect's cell since he was taken into custody Saturday morning.

The accused wore a white dress shirt, open at the neck, with grey slacks, and stood straight in the prisoner's box looking at Magistrate H. C. Hall. He did not speak.

Mantha's heavy, dark features did not change when the murder charge was read to him, but as he stood still his eyes blinked rapidly several times under their bushy, black brows.

The man is of stocky build, of medium height, dark complexion and has thick, black, curly hair.

Comet Clips Cairo Record As First Plane In Since Suez

CAIRO (UPI)—The first British Overseas Airways plane to land at Cairo since the 1956 Anglo-French invasion of Suez set a new record Monday.

A BOAC Comet IV jet made a test flight from London in four hours, 45 minutes. It was the first BOAC craft to land at the airport since a ban on the government-owned airline's flights was imposed in October, 1956. The United Arab Republic permitted BOAC special exemption from the ban for yesterday's first leg of a proving flight from London to Bombay and Hong Kong.

DEATH PENALTY TO 5 RUSSIANS WHO WENT NAZI

MOSCOW (AP)—Five Russians described as traitors who collaborated with the Nazis have been sentenced to death by a military tribunal in southern Russia. A sixth defendant received a 25-year prison term.

The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star said the six "renegades and degenerates" had been found after hiding out for 15 years.

The six went over to Hitler, the newspaper said, when the Nazis occupied the southwest part of Russia, and "killed and tortured hundreds of Soviet people." All the defendants pleaded guilty to the charges of war atrocities, the newspaper said, and were sentenced to face a firing squad.

Japanese Want GI for Shooting

TOKYO (AP)—Justice Minister Kichii Aichi said today the Japanese government will insist on jurisdiction over an American airman whose shot from a U.S. air base gate killed a Japanese student on a train.

Tokyo newspapers indicated that if the United States doesn't turn Airman Peter E. Longpre over to the Japanese, the Americans will have another Girard case on their hands.

Aichi told a cabinet meeting he didn't think the shooting occurred during "performance of official duty" although Longpre was on guard duty at the entrance of Johnson air base when his carbine went off Sunday.

The 19-year-old airman said the gun fired accidentally and he did not know it was loaded. The bullet passed through a window of a passing train and hit Sachiyuki Miyamura.

The U.S. Air Force is still investigating the shooting and is holding Longpre.

Under a U.S.-Japanese agreement, offences committed by American military personnel in performance of duty come under U.S. military jurisdiction, while off-duty offences are handled by Japanese courts.

In the case of Specialist William Girard in 1957, Japan maintained similarly that although on guard duty on an army firing range, Girard was not performing his assigned duty when he shot a Japanese woman, scrap collector in the back and killed her. The U.S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Japanese jurisdiction. Girard got off with a suspended sentence.

BCE Bus Fare Probe Moves to Vancouver

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady will represent Greater Victoria Friday at a Public Utilities Commission meeting in Vancouver winding up its hearings of B.C. Electric Company's application for bus fare increases.

Final arguments on the application were reserved for the Vancouver meeting Monday following an all-day hearing in the Legislative Building which saw Mr. O'Grady make a vain attempt to have the company's books opened to the public.

Mr. O'Grady asked that a detailed financial report the company is compelled to make to the PUC each year should be given to all interested parties to the hearing.

BCE vice-president and solicitor, A. B. Robertson, opposed the suggestion.

SOMETHING TO HIDE?

"What have they got to hide?" asked Mr. O'Grady. "Why should they object to making a disclosure of their affairs? What is confidential about that information?"

Mr. Robertson said the report should not be made public just because it had some figures that might be relevant. That did not mean everything should be disclosed.

PUC chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said particular information could be requested. But the commission would have to give very careful consideration to any request for disclosure of the full report.

Mr. O'Grady did not press the point.

YOU CAN AFFORD TO FORGET—IMPERIAL CAN'T

...because four generations of Canadians have come to depend on Imperial products on the road, on the farm, in the home

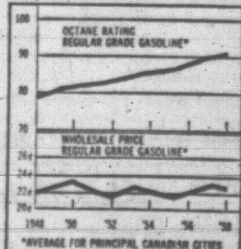

Imperial started supplying Canadians with oil products in the very early days of the industry in Canada... in fact, 1880 was the year it made its start in this business.

In most areas of Canada, it was an Imperial refinery which first began making oil products locally.

Imperial pioneered, too, in supplying

Canadians with products when and where they were needed. (As far back as 1907, Imperial opened the first service station in Canada... and perhaps in the world.)

Today, as over the past 78 years, Imperial recognizes its responsibility to bring Canadians the most modern of oil products at the lowest possible price.

COSMIC RAYS BLISTER MAN'S INVENTIONS

GENEVA (Reuters) — A British scientist told the world conference on atomic energy here today that some of the cosmic rays reaching earth from outer space contain 10,000,000 times more energy than anything yet produced by man.

Dr. C. F. Powell of Bristol University was reviewing 20 years of research into cosmic radiation—tiny particles of energy that stream into the earth's atmosphere from distant stars.

Missile Hits Four Times Sound Speed

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI)—The air force disclosed today that a Lockheed X-7 Ramjet missile has been flown in excess of four times the speed of sound to become the fastest air-breathing missile in the free world.

The 37-foot-long X-7 designed and built by the Lockheed missile systems division in Van Nuys, Calif., also holds the altitude record for Ramjet Birds. Although the exact altitude has not been revealed, it can be said the X-7 has flown to the edge of the upper atmosphere.

U.K. Negroes Launch Racial Peace Drive

LONDON (CP) — A Negro group in Britain today launched a racial peace campaign and took a vow of tolerance in the event of further clashes with whites.

Negroes in Nottingham, where Britain's race riots first erupted 17 days ago, announced the move and also decided to ask the police for more protection against what they called "hooligans."

A spokesman for the Negro group said hundreds of non-whites had discussed the peace campaign and agreed to support the tolerance vow.

MEASURES PLANNED

In London, meanwhile, West Indian political leaders discussed the race riots with British government ministers and planned "practical measures" to improve the conditions of Negro migrants.

Taking part were Norman Manley, chief minister of Jamaica, Dr. Carl Lacorbiniere, deputy prime minister of the West Indies Federation, Dr. Hugh Cummins, premier of Barbados, Ram Karran, British Guiana's minister of communications and works, and John Profumo, colonial under-secretary.

Government sources discounted a newspaper report that Prime Minister Macmillan was irritated by the West Indian ministers having come to Britain without first consulting the British government.

Meanwhile, a United States Air Force spokesman said that American servicemen have been advised to avoid scenes of racial disturbances here.

"It is not an ironclad order," said an officer of the U.S. 3rd air force headquarters. "They are not forbidden to go there, but we do not want any of our men to be involved in these incidents."

Lawyers Ask Nation-Wide Legal Policy

TORONTO (CP) — Arthur Kelly, president of the Canadian Bar Association, said today the time has come for immediate action to bring about a uniformity in the administration of justice in Canada.

Speaking at the opening session of the 40th annual convention of the CBA, Mr. Kelly called for an association-sponsored conference to consider steps necessary to achieve improvement and uniformity in Canadian law.

Text of his address was released to the press before delivery.

Mr. Kelly listed five ways in which a greater uniformity should be sought:

The duties of judges should be cut down and made more uniform.

There should be a periodic re-adjustment of the territorial limits served by a judge so that the volume of work of all judges may be approximately equalized.

There should be some adjustment made in judges' salaries.

Differences in procedure not essential to the rights of the parties involved should be eliminated.

Lovers' Lane Robber Confesses As Body Found on Mountain-Top

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—The body of a pretty blonde stenographer, who was kidnapped, raped and later died of three bullet wounds in her head, was found Monday in a shallow grave atop a mountain.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer said Floyd J. Robertson, a husky 25-year-old cement worker, admitted the crime.

As a sheriff's posse brought the ravished body into Fort Collins from the isolated spot 35 miles northwest of here, District Attorney W. A. H. Mark Smith termed the killing "a sexual murder."

He said the girl's body was found under a pile of logs. Her brassiere and sweater were on her head. Her clothing was found in a shallow hole about four feet from the body. Nearby was a blood-stained mattress and a raincoat.

Robertson told officers he warned the woman, Marjorie Schneider, 18, that "I'm a crack shot," and then pumped three bullets into the back of her head Sunday morning as she ran from his car.

'My God, Why Did I Do It?' He Sobbed

Robertson then carried the body to the top of the mountain and dumped it into a shallow hole.

"My God, why did I do it?" Robertson sobbed to officers Monday night.

The girl's body was uncovered late Monday—about 36 hours after a gunman had surprised her and three other young people as they sat in a parked car at a lonely lovers' lane four miles southwest of Fort Collins. He shot up the

He Carried Body to Mountain Grave

After carrying the girl back to the car, Robertson said he drove six miles to the foot of a mountain and, wrapping the body in his raincoat, packed it to the top. He said he tossed rocks and brush over the makeshift grave.

Robertson's 24-year-old wife said he came home Sunday night. When he left for work Monday officers who had traced his automobile from a description furnished after the kidnapping were outside the front door.

Robertson led the posse to the body.

An autopsy showed the girl had been raped before she was killed.

District Attorney Mark Smith said he would press for immediate prosecution of Robertson.

Tipped Off to Answer Quizee Gave It Away

NEW YORK (AP)—The district attorney's investigation of television quiz shows took an ironic turn Monday, as one contestant told investigators he was supplied with answers in advance—then gave them away inadvertently to an opponent.

The identity of the contestant was not disclosed. Neither was the name of the show.

The investigation of giveaway programs was begun after a standby contestant for the now defunct Dotto charged he had been given answers in advance. Twenty-One is also under scrutiny as a result of allegations made by Herbert Stempel, who won $49,500 before losing to Charles van Doren.

The district attorney's office said the unidentified contestant told of receiving questions and answers from the producers. Without being aware of what he was doing, the contestant said, he disclosed the answers to his opponent while chatting with the latter before going on the air. The opponent also was not named.

The district attorney's office would not comment on published reports that Rev. Charles E. Stoney Jackson of Tullahoma, Tenn., claimed he had been given the answer to a question on The $64,000 Challenge.

Erkki Moilanen, 2841 Naimo, told police Monday at 4.55 p.m. someone had broken into his house by a bathroom window and stole $2 from his son's bank between 7:30 and 9 p.m. Sunday.

8,000 U.S. Troops in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—There now are approximately 8,000 United States armed forces personnel serving in Canada, it has been learned authoritatively.

It is the first time any such official figure has been made public. Heretofore, both Canadian and American authorities have refused to disclose the number of American servicemen stationed in Canada.

The figure includes personnel at the three U.S. leased bases in Newfoundland.

U.S. Concern for Canada

CANADIANS IN RECENT months have shown clearly their objections to certain United States legislation directly affecting the Canadian economy.

In the light of protests on numerous points, it is interesting to study the box score of the recent Congressional session. The over-all picture is encouraging. Congress and the nation have seldom given so much attention to Canada, seldom talked so much about it and seldom reflected greater concern for Canadian opinion. We are not, it appears, being taken for granted.

Canada has benefited not only from what Congress did on certain matters, but also from what Congress did not do on others.

We benefit from the four-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act — an extension granted over protectionist efforts, with an assist from the Near East crisis and the skilful political work of Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson.

We stand to benefit from the greater understanding that should exist between the two North American countries following the formation of a subcommittee of the United States Senate to co-operate with its Canadian counterpart on common problems.

Canada avoids some of the dangers in the United States farm surplus disposal program by the elimination of barter sections drafted for it and the addition to the scheme of a section requiring consideration for the normal commercial trade of nations other than the United States when surplus deals are made.

The President's action vetoing a bill to double tariffs on seed wheat exports for Canada and his approval of another bill to permit duty-free entry into the United States of narrower newsprint rolls both assist this country's trade.

Similarly it is to Canada's advantage that Congress shelved a bill to impose tariffs on aluminum — restricting Canadian imports — a bill to raise copper duties beyond the 1.7 cent rate established and a move to exclude from the United States Canadian uranium exports.

There was, of course, another side to the picture of Canadian-United States relations revealed during the last session of Congress. The ugly innuendos and occasional allegations of Communist affiliations of important Canadian officials were raised once more by the Senate internal security subcommittee. There were also unsuccessful efforts to impinge on Canadian interests in the St. Lawrence Seaway and to divert water from Lake Michigan for an American project that could have injured Canadian Great Lakes shipping.

By and large, however, the Congress showed a recognition of Canadian interests unusual in recent times.

No doubt the activities of such men as Representatives Frank Coffin of Maine and Brooks Hays of Arkansas, who visited Canada, studied mutual problems and presented a widely-publicized report, have increased the awareness among Americans of the importance of Canadian-United States relations. So too, did the visit of President Eisenhower.

The days of easy relationships between the two countries have by no means been restored. Frictions have occurred and will occur again. Interests will conflict.

It is nevertheless encouraging to note that Congress did not ignore Canada in a total devotion to its own concerns. The big neighbor has proved itself not unmindful of the needs, sensibilities and aspirations of its North American partner in the economic field.

According to the Book

THE PROMOTIONAL BOOKLET recently put out by the Social Credit Government of British Columbia is entitled "Our Greatest 6 Years." Regardless of the Government's achievements, the title might well have been "Our Only 6 Years" for the administration has, of course, existed only since 1952.

But, lest any casual reader should raise an eyebrow at the implication that the past six years have been merely the six best of a long period of Scred years, the introduction by the Premier will quickly restore his enthusiasm.

This is the best Government British Columbia has ever had, writes Mr. Bennett. And, right under this statement, he signs himself as head of the Government. Implication No. 2, then, is that Mr. Bennett is the best premier this province has ever had. This he cheerfully admits.

The pamphlet itself is full of interesting statements. They are not necessarily accurate, but they are interesting. They are almost as interesting as the things that are not mentioned.

We read, for instance, that the public debt has been reduced from $191 millions to $32 millions. This is an old claim, of course, and even Mr. Bennett admitted the other day that a survey shows only one person in seven believes it.

The fact that the Toll Bridges Authority, the PGE, Railway, the Power Commission, the school districts and such public bodies have increased their debt enormously while the so-called "public" debt was being reduced tells the full story. It's just a matter of book-keeping — and the people of B.C. owe much more today than they ever have before.

By now, of course, even the most optimistic taxpayer realizes that the $28 the Provincial Government donates toward his property taxes comes out of his own pocket. Who else's pocket can it come out of? But the booklet blithely lists this as one of the great achievements of the Social Credit Government. It might not be correct to say that Peter was robbed to pay Paul, but he certainly wasn't consulted.

Under labor conditions, the booklet lists thirteen improvements and good deeds that have been carried out. It makes quite an effective display, with its graph of increased jobs and rising wages. But we have to go from the booklet to the remarks of Labor Minister Lyle Wicks to get the real picture.

Only last week Mr. Wicks said that this year is the worst for labor relations since 1952. "Work stoppages involving both federal and provincial jurisdictions have resulted in serious dislocation of employment, production and construction" during the current year, he wrote to certain labor and industrial bodies he wishes to meet later this month. A total of 366,000 man-days has already been lost this year due to labor strife.

As Mr. Bennett says in his introduction, the last six years have attracted world attention. And no wonder, with strikes scaring tourists, importers and buyers from here to Timbuktu. Perhaps the rest of the world should read the book. But the British Columbian will be able to say, "No, I didn't read the book, but I saw the play."

South Africa and the Press

CERTAIN BRITISH AND AMERICAN newspaper correspondents reporting from South Africa have been under sharp attack from government leaders in that country for the "bad press" they have given it overseas.

It is understandable that South Africans of the present regime should resent reports of racial troubles which place them in an unfavorable light among democratic peoples. It is interesting, however, to note that proposals from some highly vocal and ardent government supporters for press censorship have been turned down.

Some of the critics in South Africa take the view that the slightest hint of press control or a curb on press freedom would be more injurious to the government's reputation than the activities of any foreign correspondents.

It would appear that while South Africa snuffs out many of the candles of democracy, that of press freedom is still too hot to handle.

Space Ship for Two

SCIENTISTS ARE WONDERING whether — on the supposition that a man should retain the comforts of a familiar environment as an aid to his own stability — future spacemen should indulge in an occasional cocktail and a little feminine companionship as they travel through the wild blue yonder from planet to planet.

The question raises a delightful vision of the future, when teams of scientists will comb the night clubs of the larger cities looking for good material for their space crews. Presumably those best able to weather cocktails and feminine companionship on earth will be equally at an advantage aloft.

And while friends of the chosen man wish them happy landings, there will no doubt be many a crewman who won't care if he never lands — the sort of celestial never-never land to which thousands will happily aspire.

War for the Islands?

THE United States is "keeping them guessing" no longer. The President and Secretary of State Dulles have three-quarters unveiled the decision to use U.S. forces, if need be, to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. They have gone far enough, at any rate, so that any last-minute backdown would be an incalculable disaster.

The United States is "keeping them guessing" no longer. The President and Secretary of State Dulles have three-quarters unveiled the decision to use U.S. forces, if need be, to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. They have gone far enough, at any rate, so that any last-minute backdown would be an incalculable disaster.

Hence one must assume that this is not just another experiment in brinkmanship. Furthermore, it had better be recognized at once that the odds are at least even, and quite probably better than even, that we shall end by finding ourselves over the brink, in a very rough fight with the Chinese Communists.

Prior Agreement

The facts to consider in calculating the odds are as follows:

In the first place, it is now quite certain that the scheme to renew the pressure in the Formosa Straits was agreed upon at the Peking meeting between Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung, as this reporter suggested at the time. As the scheme was then approved by Khrushchev, the Kremlin cannot be counted on to use its influence in favor of a more useful course.

On the contrary, the Soviet Union has to be expected to give the fullest material aid to its Chinese allies. If the period of the missile "lag" or "gap" has already begun, something very much worse would also have to be expected.

But the military power balance has not yet tilted so disastrously far as it is due to tilt later on. Thus "all aid short of war" in the Rooseveltian phrase, is the indicated Soviet policy — which is not a pleasant prospect in itself.

Secondly, the Chinese Communists have already gone so far with their Formosa Straits project that it is not easy to believe they will draw back at the last minute.

On the political side, there is only one hopeful gap in the pattern. As yet, the Peking leaders have not flatly promised their own people to "liberate" Quemoy and the Matsus. But the tone of their propaganda for home consumption has been growing ominously sharper in the last days.

Meanwhile, Mao Tse-tung and Chou

En-lai have already rather deeply engaged their international prestige, especially in Asia, by quite positively announcing their intention to drive Chiang Kai-shek off the offshore islands to leading members of the Peking diplomatic colony.

Asian diplomats have heard this warning from Chou En-lai himself; and Chou rather grimly added that his government would not be deflected from its purpose by the possibility of American intervention. A. D. Wilson, the British charge d'affaires in Peking, is reported to have received the same warning from officials on a lower level.

Hopeful Gap

On the military side, there is also one hopeful gap in the pattern. As yet, there is no sign that the Communist high command is assembling the large numbers of small craft that would be needed for an actual landing on Quemoy and/or the Matsus. But small craft are two-a-penny on the China Coast.

Meanwhile, in addition to bringing most of their considerable air-power into the critical area, it can now be disclosed that the Communists have assembled large ground forces in Fukien Province. The build-up began about a month ago. The total force now available for an attack on the offshore islands is estimated to be about 200,000 men.

Chiang Kai-shek, in contrast, is sadly weak in air power and very far from strong at sea, especially when his naval forces are weighed against the 15 or so first-class submarines, based in Hangchow Bay, which the Chinese Communists have received from their Russian allies. Chiang has a big force on Quemoy and the Matsus — 130,000 men in all, or nearly a third of his army and the flower of it.

High Morale

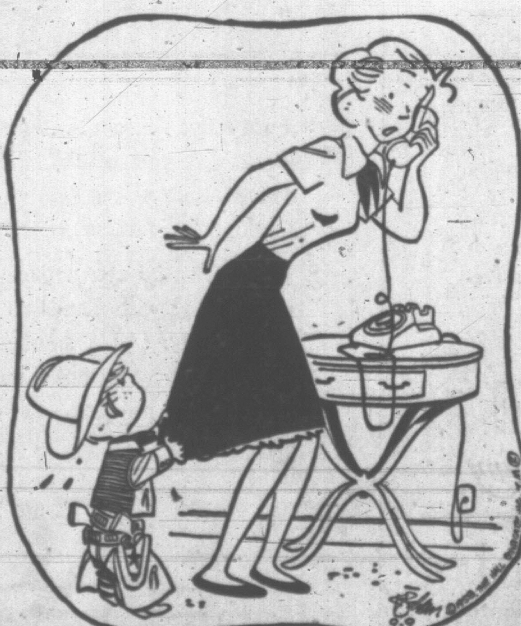

Thus far, the defenders' morale is reported very high, and they are good troops. But in view of the Chinese Nationalist weakness in the air and at sea, it is hard to see how the island garrison can repulse a really determined attack without active American support.

Already, Quemoy is fairly effectively blockaded, and the blockade must obviously be broken if Quemoy is to be held. An effort to maintain and tighten the blockade will probably be the first Chinese Communist tactic. Then a combination of sea and air attacks with intensified propaganda may be tried.

An attempt to land on the islands is likely to be made only as a last resort. But at some point in this series of mutual tests of strength and will power, American intervention is all too likely to be necessary, in order to implement the Newport decision.

'Let 'Em Eat Cake'

This is the first letter I have written to The Editor, and only now because I have thought of a way to offset the rise in the price of bread.

In the words of a famous "Marie" "eat cake" and make your own. Of course we should make our own bread as well.

We are determined not to buy anything but bread from the bakeshops. My wife makes wonderful cakes but has been a bit lazy at times. She baked three this week as a start.

It is eight years since I was pensioned and the cost of living must have gone up at least 15 per cent since then, hence, my wife works (I am not able to).

'Gloriously' Debt Free

Once upon a time, so the story goes there lived in a pleasant valley a strange character whose life ambition was to be ever in the political spotlight and to attain this end, and duly impress his fellow men he resorted to many schemes.

Among other things he conceived the idea that if he were free from debt he would be much admired by everyone and so he used up the entire family income for this purpose. Having attained his goal he went about the village broadcasting his achievement and expecting much applause.

However there were those who knew that while he was using the family income to pay his debts his good wife was forced to pile up debts at the stores about town in order to keep the family eating, debts which the husband well knew were his debts as well as hers.

Notwithstanding this dishonest performance it is recorded that one person in every seven did believe him when he said that he was debt free, all of which goes to prove that "people are funny."

Strange to Read

It is strange to read from press reports that a gathering of the CCF in Montreal claims that the Prime Minister has broken his promise to labor in connection with the provisions contained for compulsory arbitration in the emergency legislation regarding the strike of the CPR, B.C. Coast Service.

A perusal of Hansard shows that every CCF Member of Parliament voted in favor of the legislation. One can only conclude that the CCF Members of Parliament, realizing their duty to the public, are not in accord with the political organization of the CCF.

The policy of the Government quite properly is not to intervene in labor and management disputes in which it is concerned until negotiations have been exhausted (see the recent statement of Mr. Starr, Minister of Labor, in connection with the walk-out of the longshoremen).

But why is a strike necessary?

Wages and Prices

Would Mrs. Burchill say that the rank-and-file union members are satisfied they are getting a fair break from the union bosses? Would she say all union ballots are quite secret both in Canada and in U.S.A.?

Hoffa was elected president of the Teamsters Union in an atmosphere of fear and pressure and on a standing vote. What goes on in U.S.A. reflects to our Canadian unions because of American basic control.

Is Mrs. Burchill for or against the average consumers in their struggle to merely exist? There is no evidence of diminishing upward pressure on wages and prices and she doesn't say, and she is not definite on, whether higher wages increase prices.

It's almost like the old argument of which came first the hen or the egg. There is evidence all around us of wage raises causing increasing prices. Bread is again up two cents, bikers to get $100 for a 33-hour week plus fringe benefits due to increased costs of all kinds. Also our paper's up 33 1/3% due to higher wages affecting material costs, etc.

Does Mrs. Burchill happen to be one of those persons who is perfectly satisfied with present trends, has she no consideration for those in the squeeze, who, 15 years ago figured they could comfortably retire after years of thrift and hard work only to find their resources reduced by 66 per cent and that they now have to live in penury?

Wages have outstripped the cost of living by 41 per cent since even 1949, which is another proof that business is struggling to keep prices at a reasonable level while labor couldn't care less.

Mrs. Burchill's statement that prices have gone up more than wages is obviously wrong. The fact is that with the higher wages now paid unions are still not satisfied. Surely it proves that stability cannot come without drastic regulation.

The general public has the right to be angry at present trends. Mrs. Burchill notwithstanding; there is a difference between being "abusive" and being factual.

Hand-Writing Analysis

In the "Ask The Times" column of September 4, a question was asked regarding the name by which the analyzing of handwriting is known.

The two names given by The Times are generally accepted names. However, other names have, during the past 50 years, been coined. Two of these are, grapho analysis and scriptology. The first of these has been in use since 1929. The second came into existence about four years ago.

Many individuals claim to be graphologists. Quite a large number of these people have not received any specialized training in the science. As a result of this, their efforts at analyzing handwriting have not been very creditable, and the name graphologist has fallen into ill-repute, being thought of as a fortune-telling scheme. Many of those same people who have not studied any recognized course of training in handwriting analysis, are now just using the name handwriting analyst.

As a protection to the public, any person who has studied, and completed a course of instruction from a recognized registered association of graphologists, or grapho analysts, and there is a distinction between the two, carries with them an identification certificate. Just like any other profession, these associations have a very strict code of ethics. Any misrepresentation is most likely to result in legal proceeding being taken against the offending member.

As a member of The International Grapho Analysis Society, Inc., Springfield, Mo., U.S.A., I am anxious to assist any person in obtaining reliable information in regard to the proper, and legalized use of handwriting analysis, whether it is for persona's character analysis, bad, raised, or forged cheques, or other documents.

'Our Much Beloved'

A few "Johnny come lately's" are busy trying to undermine by rumor and innuendo our much beloved leader, Deane Finlayson.

My wife and I have personally known Deane for 16 years in both business and politics, and, have always found him the soul of integrity, capable and likeable in every respect.

The old saying that you cannot serve two masters is certainly true of him, he has personally sacrificed everything to serve and do his duty to the Conservative cause without wavering in the slightest.

Mr. Finlayson is for the people, and, for Government by the people. I know he loathes dishonesty in any form, he will fight fearlessly for the right, as his actions have shown.

Competition for the leadership is good if conducted fairly and truthfully.

A Case for Negotiation

R. RICHARD SCOTT

ALTHOUGH the present dispute over Iceland's decision to extend the limits around her coasts within which no foreign fishing may take place appears to be a purely Anglo-Icelandic dispute, this is not strictly true.

For many years the largest foreign catch taken from the waters around Iceland has been made by British trawlers, although more than half the total foreign catch is taken in fact by vessels of other nations. For this reason Britain has taken the lead in opposing the unilateral decision of the Icelandic Government to extend its fisheries limit from four to 12 miles.

But the Governments of the other nations whose nationals traditionally fish in those waters have also opposed the Icelandic decision to act unilaterally.

The trouble with Iceland over her fisheries limit really began in 1952 when Iceland unilaterally extended her limit from three to four miles and reserved further large areas by redrawing the baselines from which these limits were to be measured.

Ten-Year Standstill

The British fishing industry whose trawlers were thus deprived of important areas in which they had fished for the past half century imposed a boycott on the landing of all Icelandic fish in the U.K. The dispute was only settled some four years later when the fishing industries of the two countries agreed on a 10-year standstill on limits.

When the International Conference of the Law of the Sea opened in Geneva last February, Iceland pressed for a further extension of her fisheries limit to 12 miles and for even more restrictively drawn baselines.

The proposal which received the greatest support — 45 out of the 85 participating nations — was submitted by the Americans. If it had been adopted this would have given Iceland exclusive fishing rights within six miles of her coasts and in a further six-mile limit in which the trawlers of other nations which had traditionally fished there would also be able to fish.

Britain supported this proposal. Iceland opposed it.

On June 20 the Icelandic Government announced that it had decided unilaterally to extend its fisheries limit to 12 miles as from this Sept. 1.

Its intention of doing so had already been made known and an attempt had been made in the NATO Council of Ministers, which met at foreign ministers' level in Copenhagen in May, to persuade the Icelandic Government not to act unilaterally in the matter.

On June 4, the British Government announced that, while still being very willing to negotiate an acceptable settlement of this problem, it would be the Government's duty to prevent any unlawful interference with British fishing vessels on the high seas.

In the meanwhile, it is reported that talks have been taking place in NATO between representatives of the countries principally concerned — Britain and Iceland and West Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, Norway and Denmark — in an attempt to reach some compromise arrangement.

But the British Government considers the unilateral extension of fisheries limits from given baselines as wholly unjustified in international law and unacceptable. There is no case in which the British Government has recognized a 12-mile fishery limit.

In the Anglo-Soviet Fishery Agreement which followed the Soviet decision to extend its fishery limit to 12 miles the British Government not only reserved its position with regard to this decision but was given the right to fish within the new limit in certain specified areas where British trawlers had traditionally fished.

Children always assume that any new teacher is feeble-minded. Leave Us Our Gentle 'Flu

THE United States public health service has recommended influenza vaccination for key groups and individuals before fall.

On my own behalf and for other hypochondriacs, I rise to protest.

The vaccinations might work. The prospect of going through autumn, winter, spring and into next summer in robust, back-slapping good health, without a sniffle, is unthinkable.

That should be expected of no one. Every person has the right to a certain mild bout of 'flu. To every one should be allowed the modicum of self-pity and sympathy a short snort of influenza inspires. And without a mild infection, the individual becomes an offence to his less immune friends.

It is, my theory—unsupported by any psychologist or psychiatrist of note, as far as I know—that a person needs a little ill-health, or the appearances of ill-health. Without these small lapses, he becomes only the willing horse, expected to do his share of work and a great deal more, while others subject to mild afflictions are relieved of their portion of the burden.

Moreover, a man needs a break in the course of that often dreary stretch between one summer and the next. There may be better ways of acquiring such a break, but they escape me.

One of the gentle pleasures of life for those from whom the bloom of youth is fading, or has faded, is a smidgin of the "vapours" as they used to be called in the ladies' books.

Take a grey, drizzly morning, with an uninteresting schedule ahead at the office and the prospects of an evening chore with little appeal. Figure it as part of a succession of uninteresting, grey days.

In robust good health a person is expected to rise and face the ordeal. He's expected to be cheerful, encouraging to his work-mates and able to bat in the high percentages.

But let him come down with a running nose—not running to the point where it becomes sore, but running nevertheless—and the mild aches and lethargy which accompany an onset of 'flu, and he has a first-class excuse to dodge the whole disagreeable issue of grey day and boring work.

Given some meagre histrionic talent, he can even evoke a degree of sympathy for himself at home. He can be coaxed to stay in his warm bed, can be persuaded to take his nourishment there, can be encouraged to do a little light reading propped up against a mountain of pillows and, when bed-palls, can even be brought, in dressing gown and slippers to an easy chair before a blazing fire of somebody else's kindling.

That is a dull autumn-winter pleasure that should be denied no man, not even a member of a key group. That is one of the few luxuries left those of us who are hypochondriacs.

Who, we ask, wastes tender solicitude on a person in robust health?

On the other hand, who can deny solace to the figure, taken down by 'flu, who looks wistfully pale from his white pillows with spaniel gratitude toward any showing him kindness?

There are, of course, more practical reasons against vaccination—reasons that have nothing to do with its medical virtues, which aren't challenged here. But if a person can't have a little 'flu, what can he have?

And how can he know he's in robust health if he has no occasional mild indisposition to furnish a contrast? Also, how is he going to break into the conventional fall-winter conversation if he has no alibi to provide him with subject matter?

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

SLEEP-WALKING

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

A number of mothers write about a sleep-walking (somnambulism) son who, at night, tends to get up and walk around. One woman says that one night her son was found walking half a mile from home, apparently asleep. She wants to know what can be done to stop him from doing this again. Another woman says her rather sullen son is a problem because if, while sleep-walking, someone in the family tries to wake him, he fights back with his fists.

I was just reading a few articles on sleep-walking as it was seen in army barracks during the Second World War. The writers agreed that many of the sleep-walkers came from families in which there was a tendency to epilepsy, and when electroencephalograms were made, these often showed an epileptic type of "dysrhythmic" or irregular record. In most cases, there was no history of the lads ever having had a fit; but in many instances the mother, when interviewed, said that her boy had always been hard to raise and handle.

He had been violent, or hot-tempered, hard to control, hard to discipline, and hard to keep in line at school. In many cases he had had terrible nightmares, in which he might scream. Some of the sleep-walkers were bright, but one in four did poorly in school. In some cases the doctors could get no history of any relative with fits, but usually they learned of relatives who had a violent temper, or who were alcoholic or at times somewhat mixed-up mentally.

Whenever I see a case like this I have a set of electroencephalograms made, and especially when they are typical of epilepsy, and when some members of the family behave like irritable epileptics, I try the effect of dilantin or some other anti-convulsive drug. Often this helps greatly.

As I write this, a mother comes in to ask me what she can do for a bad-tempered boy who can't sit still, and can't concentrate on any reading. I am sending him to a neurologist for a good examination and for the making of electroencephalograms. If these records of brain activity should suggest epilepsy, I think the neurologist will want to see what some dilantin—perhaps with a little mebaral (a sedative)—will do to quiet the lad.

A woman asks about Addison's disease. This is a very rare condition due to the destruction of a part of the adrenal glands. These are located on top of the kidneys, in the loins. In the old days, people with Addison's disease developed a dark skin; they became very thin and very weak, and after a while, died. Today, they can be kept alive usually for years. All a few need do is to get enough sodium chloride, or common table salt, into them, while others need drugs of the cortisone type. They have to be particularly careful when they go into a crisis of vomiting, or when they have an acute infection, or when they have to have an operation. Then they must be given a cortisone-like drug.

If I had such a rare disease, I'd like to go to a huge clinic. Why? Because only there would I find men who were constantly seeing patients with my trouble. If a patient with Addison's disease were to come to me for treatment, I wouldn't take him; I'd confess frankly that I do not see a case in 40 years, and hence must get what little I know about the disease from books.

A few doctors don't approve of big clinics, but such clinics are wonderful when it comes to the diagnosing and treating of the very rare diseases. Only a man in a great clinic or hospital can specialize so narrowly that in 20 years he can see dozens or scores or hundreds of patients with some very unusual complaint, such as Addison's disease.

$12,000 ALREADY IN KITTY

With three weeks still to go before the start of the campaign, the Community Chest already has $12,000 in the kitty.

It came in the form of cheques and, said advance gifts co-chairman Archie Smith today, they're still coming. The division hopes to pull in $100,000 this year, $40,000 more than the 1957 target.

Chest campaign meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m. Wednesday at Spencerhouse.

SONJA STRANDLIE ... "If we don't who will?"

WHY I SUPPORT COMMUNITY CHEST

Today: Sonja Strandlie, Victoria College arts student.

"I have seen great suffering in hospitals, in the streets and I don't see any other way of helping these people if we don't support the Chest.

"Some of my best friends have been victims of misfortune, so I think I have good reason for supporting this organization. "The only way we can help people—and we all know how much work there is to be done—is by getting together and tackling this thing as a community.

"That is what the Chest is for. It would be very wrong not to get behind it and push it along. If we don't, who will?"

"People who are not convinced should visit the cerebral palsy and multiple sclerosis clinics at Royal Jubilee Hospital. There they will see children, young children, who have only half of their faculties. It's a terrible situation. These children—and others like them with similar afflictions—look to us to make them normal.

"Well, we can make them normal. We can fix them up. We can heal them. "But we won't do it on our own. We'll do it only as a community. That is what I believe, and that is why I support the Community Chest. I think that's reason enough."

GEN. E. L. M. BURNS ... predicts trouble

Middle East Flareup Seen by UNEF Chief

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A new flareup in the Middle East before long is predicted by Lt. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force policing the Gaza Strip between Egypt and Israel, according to an interview published in the Tiroler Tageszeitung.

The newspaper interviewed the Canadian general during his vacation. Burns said the situation in the Middle East is "not only very complicated but very unstable."

"And this instability will be a long-range problem throughout the Arab world. There will be a flareup of new difficulties before long."

REFUGEE PROBLEM Burns said the Arab refugee problem in Palestine was a primary cause of the "complicated state of affairs" and added: "As long as this problem remains unsolved the pressure on Israel will not decrease, and it will be impossible to remove the emigration of the Arab refugees in particular and of the Arabs in general."

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, now on a peace tour of the Middle East, "has his hands full to keep the fires quenched there so that there is not a conflagration."

Burns said the Arabs are striving for unity but there are still many obstacles on the way to this goal, mainly because of what he called "the individual Arab's poorly developed capability of independent political thinking."

Frost Sees Need For Provincial Bill of Rights

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said Monday it may be desirable to pass a provincial bill of rights as complementary legislation to a bill introduced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Diefenbaker last week.

Mr. Frost said he would welcome approaches by the federal government to draft an over-all declaration of human rights.

He suggested a conference between federal and provincial representatives "to iron out the uncertain places in our constitution" and find a way to permit the Canadian government to amend the British North America Act.

HOME GARDEN

Clean-Up Fires Still Dangerous

Recently we suggested that soil which is not growing plants should be growing a soil improvement crop such as fall rye.

It now appears that we missed out part of the instructions, not through carelessness, but because we thought them obvious.

Not mentioned was the fact that in a dry season it is necessary to water the sowing of rye just as one waters the newly-sown lawn at this time of year.

Seeds, as we know, will not germinate in a dry soil, also their ability to germinate is impaired if they lie in a hot soil. Therefore we add to the previous instructions the need for keeping the surface soil moist until the seed has germinated and the plantlets are well established, or until we have had sufficient rain to thoroughly moisten the soil.

Jack

The mention of rain recalls a recent noon weather broadcast by Bill Mackie in which he warned gardeners that overcast skies and the infrequent shower do not make conditions safe for the indiscriminate burning of rubbish.

Each evening the air is filled with bonfire smoke, and we have noticed some fires of definitely dangerous proportions.

While the gardener may exercise every care to see that the fire is built clear of anything which may burn, the dryness of the material causes a fierce blaze with a terrific updraft which carries firebrands over nearby fields, gardens and buildings.

If you must burn before the heavy rains come (1) be sure to obtain your burning permit from the local fire department; (2) burn small quantities of rubbish at a time and have the water hose and a shovel handy to keep the blaze under control; (3) watch where the firebrands travel; (4) see that the ashes are completely extinguished before leaving the remains for the night.

The Day YOU Were Born

JULIA CROSS, 1120 Craig flower Road, is a grade five pupil at Lampson Street School.

She plays golf on the Gorge Vale course sometimes—her father is a member and Julia wants to be a golfer like Daddy. She is an active little girl, loves her two cats and all other animals.

On the day she was born:

B.C.'s 17,000 Chinese had high hopes of getting the municipal franchise. A delegation of Chinese leaders spoke in support of civic voting rights for Canadians of Chinese heritage at the convention of The Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Seven provinces banded together to try to stop a new railway freight increase.

John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party—urged that the ban on oleomargarine should not be removed. It would, he said, "infect a further handicap on the dairy industry."

Mr. J. G. Taggart, chairman of the Agricultural Prices Support Board, said the forecasts of a critical butter shortage were greatly exaggerated, and that there was a two months' supply of butter in storage, and production was climbing.

The Emperor Waltz was showing at the Royal. The date? September 9, 1948, a Thursday.

Street Lighting Plans Banned Under New Act

Saanich has been forced to abandon an extensive program to improve street lighting because of a new regulation in the Municipal Act. Reeve George Chatterton informed council Friday.

He explained the act does not permit a municipality to initiate a street lighting program.

"The act states that only householders in a street can initiate street lighting," he said. "Sixty per cent of the residents have to be in favor of the project."

"Because of this regulation we had to drop our street lighting program," he added. "Many people don't know this and are still wondering why we are not doing anything to improve poorly lit streets."

The reeve urged householders to petition council for street lighting.

It was an inexpensive service, he said, and street lights had been greatly improved.

Funeral Thursday For Noted Civic Worker S. G. Clark

Funeral service for Stewart Graham Clark, past-president of the Victoria Real Estate Board and well-known civic worker, will be held Thursday, at 1:30 p.m., in Hayward's Chapel.

He died Monday, aged 76.

Born in England, he lived in Japan before coming to Victoria about 50 years ago.

Mr. Clark was a member of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 49, A.F. & A.M., past-president of the Victoria Branch of the Red Cross Society; honorary secretary of the British Columbia Division of the Red Cross and was associated with the Victoria Little Theatre Association.

He was president of the Real Estate Board in 1929-30.

Survivors include the widow, Gladys, at the residence, 1933 Crescent Road, and one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Hincks, 760 Goldstream.

Canon George Biddle will officiate at the service and burial will be in Royal Oak.

Community Centre To Meet Wednesday

All Merchants Asked for Opinion As Rivals Clash at Council Meet

All retail store operators in the city will be asked whether they like the present shopping hours bylaw or would prefer a six-day shopping week the year round.

Decision to send out individual letters to merchants was taken Monday by city finance committee. Time set for counting replies is one week.

The move followed verbal submissions supporting both courses by spokesmen for delegations of the Six-Day Shopping Committee and the Merchants' 5½-Day Association.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, committee chairman, proposed a plebiscite to decide the thorny question but Mayor Percy Scourrah and Ald. A. I. Curtis opposed the suggestion.

"Under no consideration will I go for that," said the mayor. "Well, the people should be considered," replied Ald. Dowell.

"I don't think the public should tell a merchant when he is to stay open," said the mayor.

Public Plebiscite Inconclusive

The same view was expressed by Bruce Humber, a spokesman for the 5½-day merchants' delegation.

He said his group was willing to go along with the present system, which allows Wednesday afternoon opening during 4½ months of the year, for the sake of the tourist trade.

But, he said, the group was firmly opposed to any extension of the six-day week.

E. A. Hobbs, of the opposing six-day group, said the merchants talking about a five-day week will be "crying in their soup" when shopping hours are thrown open in Saanich.

He added that Saanich is expected to get a large shopping centre development which would draw trade away from Victoria.

City Will Beat Saanich Says Mayor

"You can ignore the shopping centre in Saanich because the biggest development of a shopping centre is going to be in the city," said the mayor.

"That's definite."

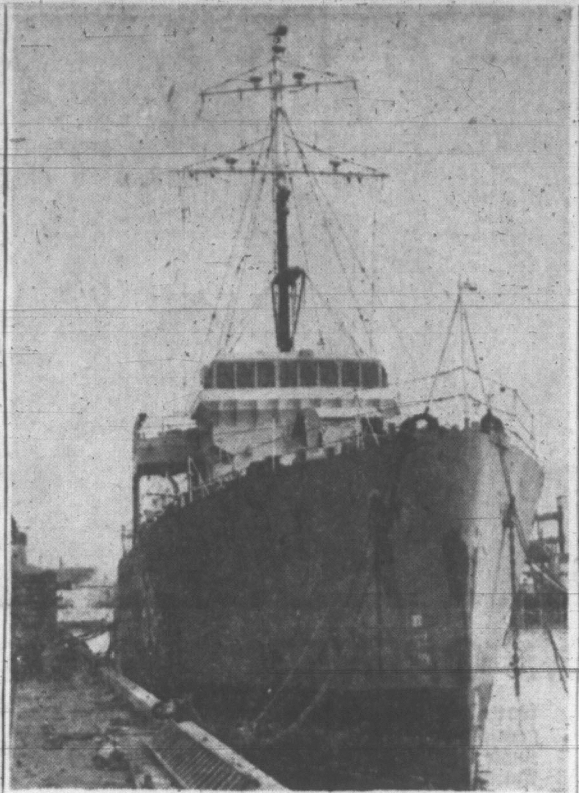

(Later, in an interview, he said he was making a general statement.)

Archie Wills, speaking for the six-day shopping group, said the group was glad to see that 246 signatures on the opposing committee's petition for retention of the status quo represented a drop in support from last year when they had 130 more names.

He disputed the statement that a majority of Victoria merchants preferred a 5½-day week.

He added that if the year-round six-day week was not allowed, his group would expect the police to prosecute store operators who sold restricted articles on closed Wednesday afternoons.

Keith Dorman, speaking for the 5½-day group, denied that he had lost any support. He said "nobody has ever worried about (illegal after-hours sales) before now except the department stores."

RIISING WELFARE COSTS IN LINE SAYS BENNETT

City of Victoria's rising welfare costs are part of a pattern general in the province, Premier W. A. C. Bennett indicated Monday.

He said provincial contributions are "up considerably" so far this year.

The province pays 90 per cent of municipal welfare disbursements, then recovers 50 per cent of the total welfare bill for the province, from the federal government.

In Victoria welfare costs are six times as great as last year, and 30 times the previous welfare high.

ALDERMEN DISAGREE

Public Works Budget Advance Sparks Row

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow chastised a fellow alderman Monday for butting into public works committee's field.

Target was Ald. A. I. Curtis, who suggested to city council last week that part of public works budget be recommended to succeeding councils each fall in order to assure a speedy work start early in the year.

The suggestion was sent to the city engineer for report to the public works committee on its feasibility. The committee tabled the matter pending receipt of the report.

But Ald. Edgelow, committee chairman, commented: "I do feel that someone bringing up a matter of some importance, especially if he has never been on the appropriate committee, should discuss it with the committee members before going to council," he said.

"It might be wise if he made sure he knew what he was talking about," Ald. Edgelow said. Noting that Ald. Curtis never had been a member of public works committee, Ald. Edgelow said the committee had been grappling with the problem for several years but had not been able to find a solution.

Woman Fined $50

Elizabeth McDonald Hunter, 1023 Dunsmuir, was fined $50 in Esquimalt police court Monday when she pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor in a restaurant.

Police said the woman had a 13-ounce bottle at Halfway Lunch, 858 Esquimalt.

Saanich Invites Two Bidders To Meet on Shop-Centre Site

A meeting of Saanich council may be called Wednesday to continue discussions with two firms wanting to buy the Douglas Street municipal yard site for construction of an integrated shopping centre.

Reeve George Chatterton told council Monday officials of Dominion Construction Co. and W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd., would be invited to attend a meeting Wednesday or later in the week.

He said municipal solicitor R. A. Wootton and a solicitor for Dominion Construction are working on an agreement for sale which would be submitted to council for study and approval.

Dominion Construction has offered $65,000 for the site and promised to build a $2,500,000 shopping centre—the largest in the municipality.

Malkin's, which lost interest in the deal last month, is once again anxious to discuss the project with the council, the reeve said.

JAYCEE RINK WINS BACKING

Finance committee Monday recommended that city council approve a Junior Chamber of Commerce project to provide a children's skating rink behind Memorial Arena.

But the committee turned down a Jaycee request that the city remove some cooling equipment and level the ground on the site. It also turned a deaf ear to a request that the Jaycees be given repatriation on the arena commission.

The Junior chamber will spend about $25,000 of its own funds and try to raise about $100,000 for the project. It intends to turn over the development to the city.

Esquimalt Bans BCE Sub-Station Saanich Meeting on Same Issue

A B.C. Electric application for rezoning of a three-acre site at Aldebury and Viewfield for construction of a substation, was rejected by Esquimalt council Monday following a public hearing.

A total of 238 householders petitioned against the project on the grounds it would "permanently and seriously" devalue their homes.

The company, which held options on the property, proposed to build a $2,000,000 substation within five years to meet growing power needs of Esquimalt.

The company first applied for rezoning on July 21, and council approved the project in principle pending a public hearing. A bylaw to allow the rezoning had gone through the first two readings at an Aug. 18 meeting.

NOT CONTACTED

In the petition, residents in the area charged the company with "misrepresentation," claiming the B.C. Electric did not contact them about the proposed site.

They claimed the substation would cause continual noise and

1925 Fire Pump Retired by City

Victoria's first motor-driven pump will be retired from the fire department's reserve line of equipment.

The motor of the 1925 model truck will be stripped to provide parts needed for repair of a 1929 model, fire warden's committee decided Monday.

"We can keep the 1925 pump as a museum piece," said Ald. A. I. Curtis.

'NO ORDINARY MEETING'

Civil Servants to Decide Monday on Strike Action

The Victoria branch of the British Columbia Government Employees' Association will meet Monday to decide whether strike action is warranted in pay negotiations with the provincial government.

"This is no ordinary meeting," an editorial in the BCGEA magazine "The Provincial" states.

"It is a meeting in which decisions will be made that effect the future of every government employee."

Similar meetings are being held at every branch in the province.

The association has asked an 11 per cent wage increase, based on wages now paid similar occupations outside the civil service.

Ottawa Aid Asked To Pay Fire Loss

Premier Bennett has placed B.C.'s 1958 fire losses in the category of a national disaster and will ask the federal government for $2,000,000 toward fire-fighting costs.

"If the federal government ever participated in a disaster they should do it now," the premier said Monday. "Of all fire and flood losses in Canada's history, this year's losses are the worst," he said.

He was referring to the value of timber destroyed, estimated at $30,000,000, as well as the cost of fire control.

So far this year the cost of fire-fighting has surpassed $1,000,000. The premier said this was "20 times the outlay of a normal year."

"We want a new deal in forest protection. The federal government receives the lion's share in taxes on the forest industry, yet they don't contribute toward fire-fighting costs," the premier said.

possible interference with radio and television.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said the company would have to look for another site in view of public opposition.

"We are here to look after the interests of the people of Esquimalt before the interests of some company that wants to come in here," he said.

Meanwhile a public hearing will be called to discuss a B.C. Electric application to rezone a parcel of land in the Kings Road-Bowker Creek area for construction of a substation.

Date of the hearing will be announced later by Saanich compyroller-treasurer John Tribe.

Saanich town planning commission has approved the rezoning.

The company informed Saanich it did not plan to start construction of the substation until the need arose for increased electric power. This might not take place for several years.

Transmission lines to the substation would be laid underground, it said.

Sailor Fined $75 For Interfering With Policeman

A naval seaman who went to the defence of a shipmate was fined $75 in city police court Monday when he pleaded guilty to obstructing a police officer.

Peter Charles Caljouw was charged after a disturbance at 1313 Club, 1313 Government, at 10:45 p.m. Saturday.

Cons. Laurie Belfry said he broke up a fight between two navy men on the dance floor and told them to leave the premises.

"What are you kicking my buddy out for?" the officer quoted Caljouw as saying.

Cons. Belfry said he told Caljouw to sit down, but the man refused to leave the building and a struggle took place, resulting in a torn shirt for the policeman.

SERIES SCHEDULE SET TO OPEN IN MILWAUKEE

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1958 World Series will start Wednesday, Oct. 1, in the city of the National League pennant winner, almost certainly Milwaukee, commissioner Ford Frick announced today.

Should the Braves and New York Yankees capture the flags in their respective leagues, as anticipated, the first and second games, Oct. 1 and 2, will be played in County Stadium, Milwaukee.

The third, fourth and fifth games, Oct. 4, 5, 6, will be played in Yankee Stadium, Friday, Oct. 3, will be a day set aside for travel, as will Tuesday, Oct. 7, if the series goes beyond five games. A six or seven-game series will bring the contestants back to Milwaukee for games Oct. 8 and 9.

All games will start at 1 p.m., local time, except the Sunday contest in New York, which will start at 2 p.m.

PIRATES WIN

Races for Second At Showdown Stage

Tee Topics

Laurie Kerr and George Andrews will battle it out next Sunday for the Colwood club championship.

Andrews eliminated Vic Painter, 3 and 2, and Kerr ousted young Bill Wakeham, one up, in the weekend semifinals.

Kerr may be a hard man to beat. He fired a sparkling 67 in practice at the Colwood layout after beating Wakeham.

The final will be over 36 holes, starting at 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m.

Wakeham had a busy day all around on Sunday. As well as competing at Colwood, the 17-year-old shotmaker won medalist honors as Uplands members opened their club championship the same day.

Wakeham beat out defending champion Frank Scroggs for the medal. Frank, incidentally, was injured in an auto mishap just before the weekend and we're happy to hear that it wasn't too serious.

At Gorge Vale, there were threats of an adjustment in handicaps as the distaff side took top honors in the annual men versus women's competition.

The women won handily, 12-5 with one tie, and reports are that the losers had a tough time collecting as many points as they did.

Tom Fallon and Toad Garpet of Gorge Vale will be out to gain sole possession of the Matson Memorial Trophy when the annual event gets under way this Sunday at Uplands.

The trophy is symbolic of the Vancouver Island handicap championship.

Both Fallon and Garpet shot net 66s last year, and as a result each man gained possession of the silverware for six months.

The event, open to all Island golfers, will consist of an 18-hole medal round.

Jack Walters of Tacoma won the International Trophy—emblematic of the B.C. Left-handers golf championship—shooting a 36-hole total 76-77—153 at Vancouver Golf Club.

Walters won the title by one stroke over Vancouver golf club's Ted Dahl.

Times Handicap Attracts Eleven

A field of 11 thoroughbreds has been nominated for Saturday's running of the Times Handicap, feature race at the opening of Sandown Park's 14-day meeting.

The starry array of horses entered in the mile and one-sixteenth event includes some of the top handicappers in the province.

Nominated are: Dos Domingos, Desert Fire, Tui Lyke, Arioso, Glo Reign, Sleepy Star, Flashes First, Text, Delare, Eves Dream and Silver Su.

GOOD RECORDS

Dos Domingos scored six straight victories at Vancouver until it ran fourth in Saturday's Yearling Special Handicap at Exhibition Park. Desert Fire captured the featured race Friday and Glo Reign finished second in Monday's feature as racing at Exhibition Park wound up for another season.

Sleepy Star and Flashes First are both new arrivals from the prairie circuit and will warrant close attention, while Victoria bettors who prefer a home-town entry will undoubtedly favor Silver Su, owned by Colin Murdoch.

It was also announced today that fans attending Saturday's inaugural meet at the Sidney track will be able to watch our Johnnie and Major Turley work out. The two Island-bred horses are ranked among the best in the Pacific Northwest.

Major Turley, owned by Victoria's Don Carley, has been acclaimed champion three-year-old in B.C.

Vancouver's 1958 racing season bowed out with a good-sized daily double and an Exhibition Park track record for the two-mile marathon Monday.

Edwayne, overlooked by the bettors, returned a neat $37.70 in winning the first race, and combined with Baby Rose, the second-race winner, for a $415.20 daily double.

If Bruce Good, It's No Gamble

Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League are going to take a Gamble this season—if they can get him.

General manager Coley Hall said he is trying to get rookie Bruce Gamble, taken by Ottawa of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, to fill the goalmouth job—formerly held by Marcel Pelletier who has returned to Victoria Cougars.

Gamble, an outstanding net-minding prospect, starred with the Guelph, Ont., junior team last season and was picked up by Ottawa.

MR. AVERAGE LONGSHOREMAN

You have been idle since August 21st because of a strike called by your Union principally on the issue of pensions. Consider these facts:

- Since 1953 you have had a Pension Plan paid for wholly by the Shipping Federation. This plan pays benefits almost twice those paid to longshoremen at Montreal and Halifax.
- In 1956 the Union requested the Federation to consider establishing a contributory pension scheme which would provide increased pension benefits.
- After detailed study, the Federation offered a contributory Pension Plan which compared favorably with any of the major industrial pensions plans in the Province and in Canada and was MORE generous than most.
- Your Committee rejected this offer and has steadily refused to re-consider it.

Pension plans are a field for experts, not amateurs

The farmer needs cash to finance operations until his crop is delivered

The banker must take care of purchases and payroll before his pack is sold

...so both are borrowing from a bank

When borrowing is sound business practice, it is a simple, straightforward process to arrange a loan from a chartered bank. Every day, in every part of Canada, the chartered banks are lending money to farmers, fishermen, producers, manufacturers, processors and other commercial customers, large and small...to meet pay-rolls, buy raw materials, market goods and meet a multitude of financial needs. A bank manager is constantly on the lookout for opportunities to make such loans—that's his job. Bank loans are an essential part of the process that provides the goods and services that make life better for all Canadians.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Maurice Simons, age 14, of Redond Beach, Calif., for his question:

When was the Carboniferous Period?

In the Carboniferous Period vast areas of dead wood high and dry. Wind and running streams covered the old wood with new deposits. Ages of time went by and the old forests were buried under layers of rock and soil. Meantime, the old earth worked her magic recipe. Under pressure from above and maybe with heat, the buried vegetation was carbonized and gradually turned into black, shiny coal.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Billy Wilson, age 13, of Oak Hill, W. Va., for his question: How Does the Earthworm Help the Farmer?

The earthworm, as everyone knows, is a very useful fellow on a fishing trip. But he does his best work for the farmer. The great Charles Darwin, who knew so much about the ways of nature, called the little pink earthworm Nature's Plowman. Yes, he does plow up the earth by bringing the lower soil up to the surface.

His body digests the moldy scraps of food it finds in the dirt and gets rid of the rest. This waste material is a little coil of dirt called a worm casting. It is soil which the worm ate down below the surface. This deeper soil is rich in minerals. It must be near the surface to feed the farmer's crops. Mr. Pinky and his relatives bring up tons of this deep, rich dirt to replace the worn-out surface soil each year.

DECAY IN SWAMPS

These primitive plants and insects thrived in the marshes which bordered the flooding seas. They grew at a great rate, died and fell into the stagnant swamps.

The forest floors were piled with old waterlogged plants. Then the seas receded, leaving

THESE TWO VICTORIA COUPLES are seen setting off from Auckland on a motorcycle tour of New Zealand after which they made a similar tour of Australia. ACROSS N.Z., AUSTRALIA City 'Ambassadors' Tour on Motorbike

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Four of the liveliest ambassadors Victoria has ever had recently completed a motor cycle tour of New Zealand and Australia.

Two of them—Ruth and David Stirling of 330 Goldstream Road—are back in the city. The others, Margaret and Peter Davel, are now motor cycling in Rhodesia.

The Victoria couples met for the first time aboard the Orient liner Orion outward bound from San Francisco to New Zealand, and struck up a friendship which lasted through 11 months of travel in New Zealand and one year in Australia.

On arrival in Auckland the two husbands and two wives found jobs for the winter. They then purchased motor cycles and took to the road, hind their husbands.

Ruth and David Stirling had already ridden thousands of miles in Canada on two Bantam motor cycles. This time they shared an Ariel machine while Mr. and Mrs. Davel mounted an A.J.S.

Ideal Climate

"We made no attempt to travel continuously together," David Stirling said. "This saved any clashing of plans, but we managed to meet in most of the principal centres."

Margaret and Peter Davel were planning to visit Peter's home in South Africa when they decided to see as much of the world as possible en route.

"Like ourselves, they chose to visit New Zealand first because they thought the climate would be ideal for motor cycling," David Stirling said. "They, too, plan to return to Victoria but want to get their fill of travel first." "They still write to us from Rhodesia."

Mr. and Mrs. Stirling have decided that of all the climates they have sampled Victoria and New Zealand have "the very best."

They speak highly of New Zealand's sign-posting system ("you can't go wrong"), and believe British Columbia could well adopt the New Zealand custom of providing campsites in all cities, large and small.

Hikers, motorcyclists and motorists can pitch tents on these sites with a ready supply of water. Hikers are charged approximately 30c a night, motorcyclists 50c and car owners $1.

Higher Prices

New Zealand's Labor government subsidizes butter and milk and provides free milk for school children. In Australia, the Victoria couples found prices and wages "much higher" than in New Zealand.

Mr. and Mrs. Stirling have secured a fine collection of wildlife movies and photos in both countries. After touring Australia, they travelled on to Europe and visited England, Wales, Scotland, France, Belgium, Holland, Italy and West Germany.

Here 5 Years

They were married at Edmonton, Alta., in 1951 and came to Victoria in 1953. Mrs. Stirling is now employed in the accounts branch of the B.C. recreation and conservation department.

Mr. Stirling has applied for work in the forestry department.

Before leaving Victoria, he was employed as electrician at Victoria Machinery Depot and HMC Dockyard. Earlier, he worked for the federal department of fisheries in many parts of Canada.

The International Cancer Congress and Cigarette Smoking

On July 6-12th. in London, England, 2,000 scientists from 63 countries attending the 7th. International Cancer Congress—an event held every four years—were given the latest data on cancer and smoking by the world's foremost cancer experts. Rothmans Research scientists were also there and have examined the papers submitted along with their own findings.

SINCE THE publication on June 23rd. of the first in this series of research announcements, there has been widespread interest shown in the Canadian press and smokers have asked for more information. Here is a brief summary of the facts as they stand today:-

1. Rothmans Research Division accepts the statistical evidence linking lung cancer with heavy smoking. This is done as a precautionary measure in the interest of smokers.

2. The exact biological relationship between smoking and cancer in mankind is still not known and a direct link has not been proved.

3. In research laboratory work, inhalation studies on animals have been largely negative. However, the application of tobacco tar on the skin of certain animals has produced cancer and therefore indicates that tobacco smoke condensate contains carcinogenic substances which are at least active to those animals.

4. The suspected chemicals in tobacco smoke that have produced cancer in animals have been identified. In fractionation studies, the majority of the active carcinogenic agents were located in the fraction which is eluted with carbon tetrachloride from the neutral tar. This fraction represents only 1.7% of total tobacco tar and, when applied in the heavy concentration of 10%, produced 100% cancer on animal skin.

5. Further studies were then conducted to determine whether there was a threshold level at which total tobacco tar would not produce cancer on animal skin. It was discovered that there was a dose level at which the development of animal cancer was so small, and the latent period before the formation of tumours so long, that for all material purposes it represented a threshold level. This minimum level is about one-third the optimum level.

6. Transposing this data to cigarette smoking, an increasing section of scientific opinion believes that if the tar intake from a single cigarette were reduced to the range of 18 to 20 milligrams (mgs.), there would be a significant reduction in the possible risk of lung cancer. Most of the world's cigarettes today yield in the vicinity of 30 mgs. and there are many which exceed 40 mgs.

N.B. The control at 18-20 mgs. of the tar intake from a single Rothmans King Size cigarette is achieved as follows:-

- (i) the use of tobaccos of lower tar content,
- (ii) the fitting of an effective filter which reduces further, and in correct proportion, the amount of tar entering the mouth and lungs, and
- (iii) the stubbing out of the butt of a cigarette equivalent to about one-third of its total length (for which purpose the extra length of Rothmans King Size is provided).

The balance between satisfaction, filtration and ease of draw is constantly checked by scientific instruments.

7. There are no scientific grounds to justify the reduction of tar in a single cigarette to less than 18-20 mgs., except in the case of very heavy smokers of more than 2 packs (40 cigarettes) a day.

N.B. To such smokers Rothmans advocates moderation.

Reducing the tars in cigarettes to the level of 18-20 mgs. does not affect the pleasure of smoking. Indeed, once people have smoked such cigarettes, they find satisfaction and enjoyment in the cleaner smoke. Below 18-20 mgs., tobacco begins markedly to lose its taste and aroma, and there would be less and less satisfaction as the readings drop.

8. Unburned tobacco contains no cancer forming agents. They are formed only during combustion. Any plant material sets free cancer forming agents when burned at a high temperature. (If lettuce were smoked, the result would be the same.)

From about the middle of a cigarette length to the butt, the temperature reaches 880°C. ($\pm 30^\circ\text{C}$). When this temperature is reduced below 700°C., the biological activity on the skin of animals is reduced to almost nil.

As a further precautionary measure, research projects on this problem include the search for a chemical to make tobacco burn at a lower temperature.

N.B. The present straight virginia manufacturing process as used by Rothmans employs no chemicals whatsoever. Nor would any chemicals be used unless a direct biological link (as distinct from a statistical link) makes it necessary to treat tobacco with such a catalyst.

9. Some statistical studies indicate a higher mortality rate from lung cancer among cigarette smokers than among smokers of cigars and pipes. However, in laboratory experiments, the carcinogenic activity from cigar and pipe smoke was found to be greater than in cigarette smoke, because, burning at a high temperature for a longer time, combustion is more complete in cigars and in pipes.

10. The tobacco-cancer problem is difficult and nebulous. It has brought forth many conflicting theories and evidences. But great knowledge and a better understanding have been gained through research. The controversy is a matter of public interest. The tar contents of the world's leading brands of cigarettes are today under the scrutiny of medical and independent research.

A list of cigarettes, some of which have achieved significant tar reductions of up to 40% in the past year, was tabled at the International Cancer Congress by an eminent cancer expert.

N.B. The performance of Canadian made Rothmans King-Size cigarettes (as previously certified by independent research) showed that:-

Rothmans King Size Filter yields from 14.4% to 38.7% less tars than the four other best selling Filter brands in Canada.

Rothmans King Size Untipped yields from 26.5% to 34.0% less tars than the three best known plain end brands in Canada.

ROTHMANS Research Division welcomes this opportunity to reiterate its pledge:-

- (1) to continue its policy of all-out research,
- (2) to impart vital information as soon as available, and
- (3) to give smokers of Rothmans cigarettes improvements as soon as they are developed.

In conclusion, as with all the good things of modern living, Rothmans believes that with moderation smoking can remain one of life's simple and safe pleasures.

LACK OF STAFF STALLS
MENTAL HOSPITAL PLAN

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black Monday said the provincial cabinet has "shelved" plans for a new mental hospital on Vancouver Island.

A 1,500-bed unit had been envisaged, one proposed site being William Head.

Mr. Black said a lack of trained personnel was the greatest drawback to the plans.

"We can't build a new hospital when it's impossible to find enough staff workers for Essondale as it is," he stated.

Chemainus Power Station Delayed

Georgia Generating Station of the B.C. Power Commission at Chemainus will not be fully operative until March or April, about nine months later than the original completion date.

The plant, built as a standby unit, has two of its four 25,000-horsepower gas turbine generators operative, and two ready for assembly in November and December, when their rotors will be completed.

When the second two units are ready for operation, rotors for the first two will be modified by the manufacturers, General Electric Ltd., of Schenectady, N.Y.

Delays have been caused because of "bugs" found in the first of this type of unit ever built, and now generating power at Monterrey, Mexico. Operation of the Monterrey plant has shown engineers where modifications should be made, and these were made to the Chemainus units as they were being built.

Meanwhile the Georgia plant, which burns oil to drive its turbines, has delivered 8,000,000 kilowatts since last year, when the first generating unit was completed. It operates on a standby basis to help meet peak loads in the system, but demand has been light since the Upper Campbell dam and generating station started power production.

Power Equipment

NANAIMO—A lightning flash here Monday, at 8:35 p.m., hit two sections of Nanaimo's commercial area, plunging the main business district into darkness for about one minute and the upper business area for an hour.

The sky was a flaming scene as the bolt hit primary metering equipment on Skinner Street and a line section fuse at Northfield, two miles from the city centre.

Navigation Firm
Awards Seamen
25 Per Cent Hike

VANCOUVER (CP)—Norm Cunningham, port agent for the Seafarers International Union, announced Monday signing of a new contract with Northland Navigation Co. whose six vessels operate between here and Vancouver Island points and Prince Rupert.

The new agreement calls for a 25 per cent wage increase immediately over two years, 12 per cent of which is retroactive to June 12. The former contract expired Nov. 1, 1937. The former contract expired Nov. 1, 1937.

About 125 SIU members are employed by Northland, said Mr. Cunningham. The agreement also includes small boosts in overtime rates and other fringe benefits.

The contract is similar to that signed by the SIU with Union Steamships and Tidewater Navigation last week.

It increases pay for able seamen from $228 to $285. Some classifications, such as cooks, receive raises as high as 60 per cent.

SHOWERS-SHINE PATTERN STAYS

Weather will be unchanged for Victoria Wednesday—cloudy with some sunny periods and scattered rains overnight in some areas. The local weather pattern is general throughout B.C., with less rain expected in the interior. Rain is heavier on the north coast.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

It amuses me that people born in foreign language countries so often speak better English than we do. Austrian-born Hans Gruber, our debutant symphony conductor, is a notable example.

Just after the orchestra finished playing Dvorak's New World Symphony at Sunday's concert in Beacon Hill Park, a baby in the front row started to yell.

Stuart Underhill, a B.C. newspaperman who has climbed to the top in Fleet Street journalism, is visiting relatives in Victoria this week.

From The Vancouver Province he joined The Canadian Press and was sent to England to become chief of CP's London bureau. Now he is editorial supervisor of Reuters world news service with headquarters in London.

Do newspapermen do their "homework?"

The question was raised by deputy provincial secretary R. A. Pennington at the official government welcome to dignitaries from Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana and Malaya Monday evening.

Esquimalt Tory Delegates Face Vote Disqualification

By PETE LOUDON

A majority of Esquimalt delegates to the B.C. Progressive Conservative party convention at Vancouver Thursday may be denied voting rights, it was learned today.

A petition has been filed with the party executive, protesting qualifications of eight of 12 delegates named Aug. 12.

Included in the list to be protested is the name of new president of the Esquimalt District Association, W. J. Hughes.

Basis of complaint is that the eight delegates were not at the time, and are not now, members of the Esquimalt association.

The constitution requires voters and nominees to be members in good standing for 30 days.

The petition, headed by four veteran members who have held various leadership positions locally in past years, charges many delegates named were formerly strangers to the association.

The four leading signatories are Mrs. Myrtle Hayes, Mrs. Annie McVie, Capt. F. W. de P. Taylor and Hugh Piggott.

Girl on Bicycle Crashes Into Car, Suffers Abrasions

Thirteen-year-old cyclist Darlene Wilson, 2960 Henderson, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for hip, hand and foot abrasions after her bicycle was in collision at Neil and Eastwood with a car driven by Solweig Bergman, 18, at 7:20 p.m., Monday.

Herbert Severson, 61, of 174 Bushby, was treated for hand and leg injuries and discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital after he was in collision with a car at Blanshard and McClure at 11 p.m. Monday.

City police said the driver was Roland Wallace, 1331 Denman.

City Hall has approved a four-day "peanut drive" in December to raise money for charitable works.

Organizations conducting the drive, Dec. 3 to 6, will be: Victoria Chapter, Order of De Molay; Cerebral Palsy Association; Bethel No. 2 and 27, Job's Daughters; and 89th Squadron (Kinsmen) Air Cadets.

The dispute is based on attempts of two factions, one supporting Tory leader Deane Finlayson and one supporting his opponent Dr. Desmond Kidd.

Seven delegates elected at the Aug. 12 meeting were on a state put forward by Kidd campaign.

Kidd campaign workers, according to observers within the party, "packed" the meeting. Although hardly more than a dozen persons have attended Esquimalt district meetings in the past, more than 100 were day "peanut drive" in December.

Many of the persons voting carried lists of names described by Kidd supporters as "our people." It is claimed now that acting chairman, Capt. R. H. Fort, did not order a check of membership qualifications, but asked merely for residence proof.

MISTAKE ADMITTED

It was reported today that Capt. Fort has since written to the provincial executive stating he made a mistake.

It is also charged that only about 35 at the meeting were qualified to stand as delegates or cast votes.

If the decision of the executive is to withdraw credentials from the Esquimalt delegates whose qualifications are challenged, there is little likelihood there will be time to name new delegates, even if it were constitutional.

Some observers feel the situation will be a telling blow to the Kidd campaign, which already is considered lacking support in this area.

Slug-a-Beds Pay More if Court's Summons Ignored

For those who are interested, it is no excuse to say you slept in if you fail to appear in city police court in answer to a summons.

Jimmy Lee, 809 Yates, was assessed an extra $150 court costs today for his true, but sadly inadequate reason for not appearing on a meter violation charge.

He pleaded guilty and was fined $250 and $5 costs. He said he missed court when first summoned because he was working night shift and "could not get up" to go to court.

"You just preferred to sleep in. That's about the worst excuse I've heard," Magistrate H. C. Hall said.

Theft of Tires Draws $100 Fine On Guilty Plea

Donald Campbell Paterson, 43, of 1211 Alderman, was fined $100 in city police court today for theft of tires valued at $77.50 from Dickinson & Dunn Tire Ltd., 1620 Blanshard, Sept. 2.

Paterson pleaded guilty to theft over $50 value when he appeared in court last week and was remanded for probation report.

Police found two tires in the trunk of Paterson's car when they stopped him on Alderman near his home later the day of the theft.

The accused told Magistrate H. C. Hall, "I started drinking in the morning... went downtown... and the tires were in the trunk."

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1958 13

Dock Strike Threatens To Close Three Mills

The president of B.C. Forest Products Ltd. said today the company's mills at Victoria, Youbou and Crofton would be closed down due to the longshoremen's strike "as soon as all available storage areas are filled."

He declined to say how soon the company would run out of storage space.

Some 1,200 employees would be laid off.

Mr. Dickey told The Times the dockers' strike had "completely cut off the export of all lumber and pulp shipments" from the three mills, "despite the fact we are not a party to the dispute."

"The costs involved have been staggering. Unless the union is prepared to return to work our plants will be forced to cut down for the duration of the strike as soon as all available storage areas are filled."

The B.C. Forest Products president said the effect of the strike was "of very great concern to the company and its employees."

"Of equal concern," he added, "is the effect of the delay in shipments upon our customers. We have received word from our pulp agents abroad that B.C. has acquired a reputation as a strike-torn area and is coming to be considered as an insecure and unreliable source of supply."

Nineteenth Day of Strike Deadlock

The strike is now in its 19th day. At issue between the 1,300 longshoremen and the B.C. Shipping Federation are a contributory pensions plan, 61-cent-an-hour pay increase, eight-hour day and four-hour minimum "call-out" time.

No further talks are scheduled since they broke down a week ago.

Monday, manager Cy Head of the Victoria grain elevator said 25 men would be laid off as soon as the elevator was filled with grain in about 10 days' time.

"We are losing money every day," he said, "and we shall just have to close down. All our men will be out of work."

Monday, federation manager George McKee termed "inaccurate the recent statement by union official William Henderson that the shippers were unwilling to co-operate in settling the dispute."

"The federation can hardly be accused of saying 'No' all the time when it was already offered two new pension plans to the union, both of which embodied benefits," Mr. McKee said.

He said the union's wage demand of 61 cents an hour was "greatly in excess of the demands of any other labor group."

Mr. McKee said "to hear the longshoremen casually talk of a 12-month strike certainly highlights the union's complete disregard for the public's welfare in western Canada."

Earlier, Mr. Henderson said the longshoremen "could hold out for a year, or for ever if need be."

"We are not backing down on this thing," he added. "We are going to stay out on strike until we get what we are asking for, no matter how long it takes. Our demands are not unreasonable. They are in keeping with labor practices throughout Canada."

Master Labor Pact Hailed by Leaders

Victoria labor leaders today hailed the announcement that unions and management in Vancouver are working on a master labor agreement covering the B.C. construction industry.

The object is to avoid strikes next year.

Said James Moffat, president of Vancouver Island Building Trades Council:

"Such an agreement would certainly solve a lot of our problems. It would stabilize the industry and keep the work going ahead."

Talks indicate a special labor-management committee will first try to work out a master agreement for basic trades—carpenters, teamsters, laborers and operating engineers in the lower mainland area.

If the attempt is successful, an effort will be made to bring these trades throughout the province under the same agreement. Then the committee will try to bring in all other trades.

The master agreement would cover especially working conditions. Pay rates would be left to normal negotiations by the unions concerned. Under the plan, individual agreements would expire at the same time, so that industry and unions would not be faced with separate and intermittent strikes.

Official Recommends Ferry Wages Formula

Mediator Craig Munroe today sent his report to Labor Minister Lyle Wicks after three weeks of talks in the Black Ball ferry pay dispute involving three seamen's unions.

Basis of the report is an undisclosed "wage formula."

A statement released by Mr. Munroe says:

"While the company and each of the unions have shown a reluctance to commit themselves at this time pending settlement of the CPR dispute, I am of the opinion there is reason for cautious optimism that the wage formula suggested by me may prove acceptable."

The report continues: "If the parties wish to delay settlement until the CPR issue is resolved, I have suggested a course of action that may be adopted."

Mr. Munroe said that settling can be accomplished by further mediation efforts at this time."

BUSINESS CIRCLES A-BUZZ

Huge Shopping Centre Planned For Victoria

By JOHN MIKA

Biggest shopping centre development in Victoria's history is being planned by eastern Canada interests.

The secrecy-shrouded venture kept city business circles buzzing with speculation today.

Only four Victorians are aware of details but they are keeping mum.

First hint of the development was read into a chance remark by Mayor Percy Scurrell Monday when he told a delegation of merchants:

IGNORE SAANICH

"You can ignore the shopping centre in Saanich because the biggest development of a shopping centre is going to be in the city. That's definite."

Questioned later, the mayor said he was just making a general observation on trade potentialities of the city—but he said it with a smile.

The reference to Saanich was directed at a proposal by Dominion Construction Ltd. to build a multi-million-dollar shopping centre on the site of the Saanich municipal yard at Douglas and the Island Highway.

Although those in the know would not reveal any details of the potential city development, there is solid ground for rumors circulating among businessmen that an announcement will be made within weeks.

Site of the development probably would be on city-owned property, bringing city council into the deal. Almost automatically the Capital Region Planning Board would become involved in negotiations.

One of the favorite sites being mentioned by rumors is the City Hall property, about the last big block of land available in the central area.

Council was willing to sell the hall to Woodward Stores Ltd. when that company proposed establishing a huge store in the downtown area last winter. But the deal fell through when the company was unable to obtain additional property in the area.

The word is that a number of nationally-known stores are involved in negotiations on the deal, but planning is so secret that even their store managers here have not been informed.

If it goes through, the development would be a giant addition to other developments in the construction and planning stages.

Canada Safeway Ltd. is building a shopping centre at Fairfield and St. Charles.

Dominion Stores Ltd., which holds three properties in Victoria, is reported definitely planning erection of a large shopping centre on Hillside near Shelbourne now that it has almost completed a number of projects in Vancouver.

The other properties it holds are located on Fort near the Oak Bay Junction and between Douglas and Burnside.

WINNER of the $250 Hiram A. Carney B.C. Government Employees' Association scholarship for 1958 is Susan Battersby, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Battersby, 5345 Parker, and a Royal Oak Junior-Senior High School student.

NAVAL PROBE INTO FRIGATE MISHAP ENDED

Enquiry into the accident to HMCS Beacon Hill in Vancouver harbor Aug. 23 has been completed by a three-man naval board here.

The report is now in the hands of the Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, and his staff officers, who will decide if further investigation is necessary.

Beacon Hill backed into the pilings of the burned-out CPR Pier D when leaving her mooring in the harbor. Damage was sustained to propellers, and she was brought to Esquimalt under tow.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Douglas Brian Grover, 1029 Johnson, $25 for violation of driver's licence restrictions.

David Llewellyn Jones, 635 Kelvin, $15 for driving without an emergency brake.

Rodney Wells, 869 Humboldt, $20 for acting as a chauffeur without a licence and $15 for operating a truck with an overhanging load without a red flag.

John David Jones, 50 Government, $10 for failing to obey the direction of a traffic-controlling officer.

The Tory Convention

The question about the big Tory convention this weekend is not so much "Will Deane Finlayson be endorsed as leader?" as "Why was the convention called in the first place?"

Mr. Finlayson, after all, is not a party policy as leader. To support a "leadership" convention as opposed to a routine annual meeting caused some eyebrow-lifting.

In fact, one of my better spies informs me that no less a personage than John Diefenbaker wrote Finlayson a letter, telling him he was solid, it was unnecessary, why did he do it, etc., etc.

Therefore it seems that Deane is merely taking a calculated risk.

He has, in open-handed way, welcomed the candidacy of Dr. Desmond F. "Cap" Kidd, one of the very few professional men to offer themselves in recent years. Never has a leadership race been conducted in such an atmosphere of amiability. (All the fighting is being done by the camp followers.)

"Cap" is a fine fellow—a big, shaggy sort of guy, new to politics but learning awfully fast. His lumbering mask a shrewd (and at times tough) mind. He likes meeting people, enjoys public speaking, and won't mince words when aroused. He entered politics because he thought (sincerely) it was a duty to society—but now he wants the leadership, and has been working very hard to get it.

Inevitably, it seems to me, "Cap" must come up against the "Black Spot" question which exists in all such campaigns. Where, the delegates will ask, was Cap Kidd in 1953?

Deane Finlayson's whereabouts at the time are well known. He, and a handful of party patriots, were staunchly defending a few old-fashioned principles. One of these was that there should be no alliance made in Ottawa with the upstart Socreds—and there was definitely a sentiment in favor, from a small but influential Tory wing.

It will be recalled that Finlayson, after his break with George Drew, faced the opprobrium of the national convention at a meeting in Ottawa. He was there, knowing he was the "bad boy" of the party, but determined to state his views. They gave him a very rough time, indeed.

Now, by virtue of hindsight, Tories study Deane's course over the past few years and find that it makes a lot of sense. The Socreds whom he opposed have been washed out, nationally. With Drew gone, the Tories have soared. And any man who fought Drew was willy-nilly at the side of the mighty John D.

It seems to the sideline that the Tories owe Finlayson a lot. My guess is that they'll give him a rousing vote of confidence this weekend, and an equally enthusiastic vote of thanks to honest "Cap" Kidd for running.

This way, Deane will emerge stronger than ever. He will be able to say that he staked his leadership against a good man, and won.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Restrictions on garden watering in Saanich were lifted Monday night.

Saanich council imposed the restrictions in August because of the long dry spell.

Council ended the restrictions after municipal engineer Neville Life reported there was no longer a water shortage.

SHOPPING GUIDE

What's New in the Shops? —This Gay Italian Ware!

By PENNY SAVER

Italian pottery is so-o-o beautiful, especially if it's elegant looking and yet practical! I've found sets of this lovely ware in a deep robin egg blue shade.

In the collection there are hors-d'oeuvre platters, chip-dip servers and bowls. Reasonable in price they are too... so why not give one to the bride and groom or to a birthday celebrant? Cost of the pottery starts at $6.50.

Also from that colorful country Italy, come all wool printed scarves. They're not just ordinary squares, these soft accessory pieces... oh no! Rich and smart looking for wearing with winter suits and dresses, they'll be a treat to wear when winter breezes blow!

A delightful gift for any fashion-wise woman, the scarves are selling at $3.95.

China salad bowls as gay and colorful as a garden in full bloom are now in town! The fluted edged dishes and plates are attractively hand painted with brilliant hued vegetable and floral arrangements.

To make the set complete, the serving spoon and fork have matching china handles. The price is low... only $3.95.

Aluminum is a popular metal for household ware because it's easily washed, light in weight and thoroughly attractive for most occasions. Take the aluminum cocktail trays for instance.

What would be nicer at your next party, than to serve refreshments from one of these good looking platters? The price of these long lasting items starts at $8.50.

Looking for something a little different? Then call me at 2-3131, I can tell you where they're to be found.

DEAR ABBY...

Practice What You Preach

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For eight years I was connected with social welfare work and have helped hundreds of people with their problems, but I can't seem to solve my own. I am married to a woman who is a good wife and mother but I don't love her. I love another woman who works with me. We've tried to break off but can't live without each other. Should we spend the rest of our lives living a lie, or should we break up our families and live decently together?

MIXED UP: Romances of this type are too hot not to cool down. Use a little self-discipline and practice what you preach.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a problem. He is a 16-year-old boy. Nobody noticed him until I noticed him... and then he got stuck-up because everybody noticed him and now he doesn't notice me. I would like to get him back. Please tell me how I can do it. Thank you. NOT NOTICED

DEAR NOT: Go out of your way NOT to notice him. If others noticed him only because YOU noticed him, they will quit noticing him... and when nobody is noticing—grab him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15, but am very mature for my age. I go with a boy who is 21. My mother doesn't care for him because he doesn't like to dress up. He wears jeans and doesn't even own a pair of dress pants. When I date him I have to lie about who I am going with, and he sends somebody else to the door to get me. I don't like sneaking around, but there is no other way to get to see him. Can you help us solve our problem? He is a very nice boy.

P AND H: A "very nice boy" doesn't send somebody else to the door to pick up his girl. If you don't know better at 15—he should know better at 21. He's not as nice as you think he is.

DEAR ABBY: I know this is none of my business, but I am very curious. Although your name is certainly DUTCH, I have the feeling that you are of LATIN origin. Am I right? CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Go to the foot of the class.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my late thirties and for the last three years have been keeping company with a stubborn bachelor of 60 who has quite a bit of money. The mutual friend who introduced us said if I played my cards right I could have him, but I don't know what I am doing wrong. He buys me Sunday supper and takes me to a show, but I'm not any closer to marriage now than I was three years ago.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Repaying party debts:

My mother, who is of the "old school," insists that dinner invitations must be repaid within a month. We haven't the means to entertain frequently, so this would be rather hard on our budget. Must a party be returned that quickly, and in kind? Couldn't a dinner be repaid by an invitation to some other kind of informal Louise Davis party even several weeks later?

Louise Davis answers:

Many etiquette standards that existed during the days of the "old school" have changed to adjust to current times. The basic meaning hasn't changed, but the ways of accomplishment have. Families can't go in the red to conform to such archaic rules, so they necessarily pare down their entertaining expenses even to zero if they must. People aren't so hide-bound as they once were. They are very understanding about this repayment rule, for there isn't anyone who isn't aware of the high cost of living and taxes. One shouldn't think of repaying a dinner, but rather of repaying hospitality whether it is "come for a cup of tea, an evening of bridge or a formal dinner." Some are lucky enough to entertain lavishly. But they all have friends who can't, and if they are thoughtful and understanding, they would never expect their less affluent friends to feel such social obligations by returning the favor in kind. There are always substitutes. Real friendships can't be measured by the kind of parties they give.

Pair Wed At Naden

The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Rhodes, Miss Eileen Priscilla Rhodes became the bride of John Briggs Elder in a ceremony Saturday evening in HMCS Naden Chapel, Esquimalt.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kay of Vancouver and the bride's parents' home is on Oakmount Road, Victoria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon lace and net gown over pink taffeta with pink cummerbund and bustle. A soft pink veil cascaded from her tiara of pale pink seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and Stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Rhodes, sister of the bride was her only attendant. She wore a paper taffeta dress and white accessories. Flower girl Sharon Rhodes wore a yellow frock.

Best man was Harold Carns and ushers were Alan Rhodes and Don Stillman.

Grant Fairley proposed the toast at a reception in the Business and Professional Women's Club.

For a honeymoon to Seattle and Portland, the bride wore a beige worsted suit with mink collar. Her accessories were in copper tones and she had an orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home at 280 Nicola Place, Victoria.

BROILED EGGPLANT

Eggplant has an altogether different taste when broiled this way: Slice 1 medium eggplant lengthwise, soak the slices in salted water 10 or 15 minutes, then drain. Arrange the slices in a large shallow roasting pan and, using a pastry brush, spread with half of the following mixture: ½ teaspoon garlic powder, 1 teaspoon salt, a pinch of marjoram or oregano, ¼ cup Spanish olive oil and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Place 2 inches below the broiler unit, cook until lightly browned, turn over, spread with remaining olive oil mixture, and brown on the other side. One eggplant makes 6 to 8 servings.

Have You Been Fudging? Exercises Will Slim Waist

A waist is a waste When fat and pudgy! Maybe you've been Much too fudgy.

How "corny" can one get? It is no effort at all for me. Anyhow I am having fun and hope you are also. To get down to real business, fudge and such foods add something to our waistlines (too much) and little to our egos.

Let's face it! There is nothing which makes a woman look younger and slimmer than a slim waist. This makes her feel younger, too. Yet this is one of the first places in which we are apt to thicken up. You can carry quite a bit of weight in the hips and still have a lovely figure. If you have a girlish waistline. Here are some exercises which are most effective.

right and left. Keep both knees stiff throughout this exercise and touch the floor as far away from the opposite leg as possible.

2. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms in the same position. Keep the knees stiff as you roll from side to side. Make the roll as big as you can.

3. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Take a cane or a broom handle, one end in each hand. Let your arms hang in front of you. Raise the handle overhead. Stretch up—up as high as you can. Bend trunk and touch feet with the handle. Again raise the arms overhead and stretch upward. Lower arms. Continue.

4. Same, starting position. Bend the trunk and touch the right end of the broom handle to the left foot. Raise trunk and raise arms forward shoulder height. This time touch the left end of the broom handle to the right toe. Raise trunk and arms. Continue, alternating right and left.

If you would like to have my tested waist-slimming exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Betty Jean Armstrong Married In St. Luke's Anglican Church

St. Luke's Anglican Church was setting for the wedding which united Elizabeth (Betty) Jean Armstrong, daughter of Mrs. L. L. Lloyd, Torquay Drive, and Robert (Bob) Thomas Penderay, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Penderay of Saanich Road.

Rev. T. D. B. Ragg conducted the ceremony in a setting of white chrysanthemums and white and yellow gladioli.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Ken Baird, Ucluelet, the bride was an attractive picture in her gown of embroidered tulle posed over heavy satin. The floor length, gathered skirt was enhanced from waist to hip-line with ruffled tulle. A tiny jacket with collar and lily point sleeves topped the dress. Sequins, pearls and rhinestones trimmed a dainty double crown which held the illusion veil edged with hand-clipper lace. Red roses and Stephanotis were in the bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. D. Brooks wore a pale pink chiffon gown. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and wore a matching bandeau. Blue lace and net dresses were worn by bridesmaids Misses Maureen Comer, Marjorie Harvey and Louise Armstrong. All carried daisy bouquets and had matching bandeaus.

For the wedding, mother of the bride wore a royal blue lace ensemble and red accessories. Her corsage was of white and scarlet roses. The groom's mother wore a sky blue outfit of lace and chiffon with blue and black accessories. She had a corsage of pink roses.

Best man was Gary Freer, and ushering were Gary Crowe, Alan Morley and Lloyd Blanco.

A three-tier cake centred the bridal table at a reception in the Golden Slipper Supper Club. Red roses decorated the tables. The cake was served on a silver tray lent for the wedding by Mrs. E. Schmeelk. Dan Harvey, Pentiction, proposed the toast. For travelling on honeymoon to the Okanagan Valley, the new Mrs. Penderay donned a brown fitted suit with beige and yellow accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The couple plan to make their home at 1053 Falmouth Road when they return.

Repeat Vows In Garden

A garden wedding was solemnized recently in Nelson, when Lois Jeanne, only daughter of Dr. C. E. Bradshaw and Mrs. Bradshaw of Nelson became the bride of Alan Lawrence Acheson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Acheson of Vancouver.

Rev. E. A. Hircok conducted the double ring ceremony.

A gown of white imported French lace over taffeta was worn by the bride. The form-fitting bodice extended to a bouffant ballerina-length skirt finished with a scalloped hemline. A short circular veil applied with same lace misted from a headdress of fine silk straw flowers and pearls. Her jewelry was a gold necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white and coral roses, gladioli and stocks.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Attending the bride were the Misses Lynne Burns, Sandra Acheson and Edith Houde. They were gowned alike in pink sherbet-toned taffeta dresses. Their headdresses were tiny caps of white flowers and leaves and they carried matching bouquets.

Best man was James Archibald and ushers were Lorne Hamm and David Bradshaw.

Mrs. R. W. Hagen proposed the toast at a reception in the garden of the bride's parents.

For a wedding trip east, the bride wore a blue silk ensemble. Her accessories were in white and she had a corsage of chrysanthemums.

The couple will make their home in Victoria, where the groom is stationed with the Royal Canadian Navy.

This morning in the Empress Hotel, Lady Coomaraswamy, wife of the High Commissioner to Ceylon, was presented with a women's institute Centennial Cook Book by Stella Gummow, provincial superintendent of women's institutes. Sir Velupillai and Lady Coomaraswamy are with a group of senior representatives of four Commonwealth governments in British Columbia at present on a nine-day visit.

Interested in Training For Young Ceylon Girls

Lady Coomaraswamy, wife of the high commissioner of Ceylon, is active in work to better conditions for women and children of her country.

She is a vice-president of Associated Countrywomen of the World and before coming to Canada assisted in establishing community centres in Ceylon through an ACWW gift of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) gift coupons.

The project is known as the Lanka Mahila Samiti Plan. Model training centres have been established where village girls live and learn weaving, textile painting, cooking and pottery. They are also trained in nursery school work.

There are baby clinics where infants are brought to be weighed and nurseries where tables and chairs are painted in gay colors and children are cared for by the girls while their mothers work in the fields. In some centres there are model houses of three rooms, where two of the girls stay at a time and where they learn modern methods of living.

Lady Coomaraswamy accompanied the high commissioner to Victoria in a party of senior representatives of four Commonwealth governments — Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana and Malaya. The group is on a nine-day tour of British Columbia as guests of the centennial committee.

They were entertained today at a luncheon in the Union Club and this afternoon toured Esquimalt naval establishments and later Royal Roads. Tea was served in HMCS Crescent to the visitors.

Lady Coomaraswamy and Sir Velupillai's private secretary, Miss P. Ponnambalam, who is also his niece, are the only women in the party.

Holidaying in Victoria after attending the last week are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McGraw with son Peter and daughter Laurie.

Husband-Wife Team Writes Books Grow Filberts and Travel for Fun

Mrs. W. C. McGraw, author of several children books and an about-to-be published novel, talked herself in becoming a writer rather by mistake.

"I kept telling my husband he ought to write a book. He never had time, so I wrote one myself instead."

The book was published, and two years later Mrs. McGraw, her husband and two children, Peter and Laurie, left San Diego, where Mr. McGraw was a newspaper columnist and feature writer, for Wilsonville, Ore., to become free-lance writers.

Visiting in Victoria, where Mr. McGraw was presented with an award for his book, "The Golden Mare," at a library conference last week, the McGraws do find time for writing, mainly children's books which they find must meet a high standard set by editors and librarians.

Writing under the name of "William Corbett," Mr. McGraw has published several successful stories for teenagers, including "Deadline," "High Road to Home" and "Pony for Keeps."

Mrs. McGraw, whose hobby is Egyptology, has an historical novel called "Pharaoh" at the publishers and now plans to experiment with play-writing.

After their holiday in Victoria, the McGraws leave for Tacoma where Laurie is to attend Annie Wright Seminary. Peter joined his family in Victoria after spending the summer in Holland on an exchange student plan, and will return with his parents to Oregon.

ish one thing, there's something else to start on."

In spite of this, the McGraws do find time for writing, mainly children's books which they find must meet a high standard set by editors and librarians. Writing under the name of "William Corbett," Mr. McGraw has published several successful stories for teenagers, including "Deadline," "High Road to Home" and "Pony for Keeps."

Mrs. McGraw, whose hobby is Egyptology, has an historical novel called "Pharaoh" at the publishers and now plans to experiment with play-writing.

After their holiday in Victoria, the McGraws leave for Tacoma where Laurie is to attend Annie Wright Seminary. Peter joined his family in Victoria after spending the summer in Holland on an exchange student plan, and will return with his parents to Oregon.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Round-the-World Trip

Miss Maralyn Richards, formerly of Victoria and more recently of Chilliwack, B.C., left Vancouver at the end of August to fly to Honolulu. From there Miss Richards goes to Tokyo, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bangkok, Rangoon, Calcutta, Bombay and to Aden and then Addis Ababa where she will spend six weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Richards. Later Mr. and Mrs. Richards and Maralyn will travel on to Cairo, Jerusalem, Athens, Rome, Naples, Venice, Florence, Milan and Paris. They will fly to London for a week and then to New York. They will visit in Washington, D.C., and also with Mr. and Mrs. Des Richards in Chicago before coming west to spend the Christmas season with relatives in Victoria. The Richards will return to Ethiopia next year, where Mr. Richards is editor of the government newspaper, The Voice of Ethiopia, first daily paper to be issued in that country.

Visit Parents

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Ney, Oakdowne Road, have as their guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Ney, and their daughter, Cheryl, from Ypsilante, Mich.

Wedding Guests

Out-of-town guests at the Davis-Easter wedding in First Baptist Church last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. L. McCoy, Miss Mary Barton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Peck, and Mrs. A. Woodfin, all of Vancouver, and Mrs. W. Spence, Calgary.

Return From Alberta

Mrs. A. M. Patterson and her children, Laurie and Pat, returned to Victoria Sunday after holidaying at Waterton Lakes and Medicine Hat, Alta., for the past few weeks. Dr. Patterson, who accompanied them to Alberta, returned to Victoria earlier.

Movement 'Grows Like Topsy' Council Told

A conference on citizenship at Lake of the Woods in Ontario, which she attended as representative of the Greater Victoria citizenship council, was subject of a talk by Mrs. H. L. Smith at Local Council of Women meeting Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Smith spoke first of the citizenship council here, which, she said, "grew somewhat as Topsy did" from a committee formed in 1949.

Work of the council is carried on by three committees, including the welfare committee, whose members gave lessons in English to immigrants until classes were organized; "I Am a Canadian Day" committee, which organizes welcoming ceremonies for new Canadians after they have taken their oath of allegiance at court ceremonies. At the Ontario conference, which was sponsored by the department of citizenship and immigration, Mrs. Smith attended workshops and seminars, including one group discussing the problem of acquisition of citizenship in court ceremonies.

She was asked to speak at a plenary seminar, and chose as her topic integration of the Chinese community on the west coast.

Speaking from personal experience she told of the former attitude when Chinese were thought of as vegetable peddlers or gardeners, and contrasted this to present attitudes, with Chinese students accepted at schools and considered as part of the group.

Delegates at the conference, who were invited by the department, came from different walks of life and different organizations.

"Every one was ready to talk, not just sit back and listen, so it was a most stimulating occasion, with a very interesting collection of people in a lovely setting."

Local council members voted to thank the centennial committee for reconsideration of the way in which money raised by schoolchildren for a centennial project is to be spent.

Canadians Unite On Conversion

Not since the days of war when the nation united to buy and make the tools of war have Canadians appeared so united on any project as they have on the Canada Conversion Loan.

From coast to coast people of all walks of life have answered the call to convert their old bonds to new ones at higher interest. And it isn't only personal profit of the bondholders which has motivated the success of the loan.

FAITH OF CANADIANS IN CANADA

A leading newspaper editorially suggests a basic reason why an undertaking of this magnitude could not fail, "the faith of Canadians in Canada."

Quoting Mr. Diefenbaker's Conversion Loan address to the nation, the paper says: "We often hear it said that nations and governments seem to be able to achieve things under the stress of wartime emergency that they cannot do in times of peace."

"Surely it need not be so. Let us prove that it is not by entering upon this undertaking in the same spirit and with the same determination that brought such distinction to Canada during two great wars."

CONTINUOUS PRESSURE ON SALES AGENTS

That is what has been happening. Since the opening date, bondholders have been converting at a pace which has put pressure not only on the Bank of Canada but also on the chartered banks and other financial institutions.

It has been a united effort. Conversions have come from every type and grouping of Canadians, from banks, insurance and trust companies, from universities, from pension funds, from religious organizations, from civic and provincial governments, and from literally hundreds of thousands of individual bond holders.

UNITED EFFORT BEHIND LOAN

Another indication of the spirit and unity placed behind the loan has been the time and effort spent by those seeking to help people convert their Victories to new Conversion Bonds. No stone has been left unturned to assure that every Canadian, even the holder of a single $50 bond, has an opportunity to take advantage of the greater investment possibility of the new loan.

The Conversion Loan is by far the biggest financial project ever undertaken in Canada in peace or war. The response by the press, dealers, and the man in the street has supported the belief in "the faith of Canadians in Canada."

• How To Spot • A 'Convertible'

To help Canadians readily identify Victory Bonds which can now be converted, the Bank of Canada today offered this simple formula.

Bonds eligible for conversion must carry one of the following prefixes in advance of the serial number: L7; L8; P3; P5; P7.

Some investors have been unaware that they held bonds which could qualify for the conversion issue. Those persons who keep a listing of their securities can now identify the bonds without even checking their strong box.

September 15 is the deadline for converting these bonds to the attractive new issue.

Busiest Photographer!

"Seems like everybody is converting Victory Bonds," muses Nicole Ladouceur, who today rates as Canada's busiest photographer. Nicole and her associates in the head office of the Bank of Canada at Ottawa are busy photographing on microfilm each of the bonds turned in to the bank for conversion. The bonds are stored for a period before being destroyed in the bank's incinerators. With the great majority of the outstanding bonds now converted, the girls face a huge backlog of photography as indicated by the stack of bonds on Nicole's desk.

What Happens...

...To Old Bonds

The same atmosphere of rigid security which surrounds the handling of new bonds or currency is applied to the handling of old bonds returned to the Bank of Canada on maturity or when called.

They are placed in rolling cabinets, secured by four padlocks, and are conveyed to the incinerator room.

At least four persons must be present at every stage of the storing and disposal of the old bonds which have served their purpose. Details are recorded on microfilm and, following a period of storage, the bonds are burned in the bank's incinerators.

Custodians must be present because each holds a key to one of the four padlocks.

First Shipment—

Canada Conversion Bonds worth millions of dollars are shown in this first shipment of the new bonds from the Bank of Canada. They were shipped to the Bank of Canada agency in Montreal where, under the watchful eye of A. Huberdeau, Monique Grondines and Suzanne Lafond prepare to send them to banks and other financial institutions for final distribution. Victory Bond holders have until September 15 to convert their Victories to the new higher interest bonds of the Canada Conversion Loan.

Leacock Manuscripts Found In Bank Vault

Leacock manuscripts, one of them written on the back of an old McGill University examination paper, turned up recently in an old carton in a vault of the Bank of Canada at Ottawa.

They had lain there since the war, when they were written by the great humorist as his contribution to one of the Victory Bond campaigns.

The manuscripts were discovered when Mary Young, a secretary in the Bank of Canada, was searching through old records to find some of the publicity done on the Victory Loan drives. They were publicized extensively at the time by the National War Finance Committee.

The papers were accompanied by a note from Leacock, explaining that he was sending the writings to the Bank as a contribution to the war effort.

It is the loans put out during those years which the government is now converting to long-term Conversion Loan Bonds, at interest rates as much as 50 per cent. higher than the original rate carried by the Victory Bonds.

NO EXTENSION OF TIME LIMIT

There will be no extension of the September 15 deadline for the conversion of Victory Bonds to the new Conversion Loan issue.

Everything has been geared to completing the loan by that date and any extension would involve too many factors to be practical, officials of the Department of Finance said. To be dealt with, applications must be filed with investment dealers, banks, trust or loan companies or stockbrokers not later than the close of business, September 15, 1958.

Women Quick To See Good Deal

Women are proving to have good business heads, according to records of Canada Conversion Loan officials.

For example, one Ottawa woman who has carried on small investment dealings for several years, walked into her dealer the day after the Conversion Loan was announced and tendered eighteen $1,000 Victory Bonds for conversion to the new 25-year 4½ per cent. issue.

In that single quick action she increased her annual interest on the bonds from $540 to $810 per year. And she received a nice cash adjustment as well.

FOLLOW SUIT

Loan officials called upon other women holding bonds to follow suit before the September 15 deadline. Many women bond holders have changed their names through marriage and others have inherited their bonds from husbands or other male relatives. Sales agents thus have difficulty tracing them.

Many women purchased bonds during the war as a patriotic gesture and tucked them away as a saving without thinking of their investment possibilities. Now they have an opportunity to greatly enhance that investment but unless they approach an investment dealer, bank, or trust company, the opportunity could be missed.

MAY NOT KNOW

In some cases the women bond holders may not even know they have them. These are instances where the bonds formed part of an estate which is being administered by an executor. Even with the huge army of bond people seeking out the eligible Victories, many holders will be missed if they do not voluntarily come forward. This applies particularly to people in remote areas. People in doubt as to whether their bonds are eligible for conversion are advised to contact a financial advisor.

5 Days Left In Big Drive

With just one full week to go, the Canada Conversion Loan of 1958 today reached 80 per cent. of its objective of $6.4 billion and a successful conclusion to the biggest financing undertaking in Canada's history was near.

Since the Hon. Donald Fleming, Minister of Finance, spoke to the people of Canada by radio and television a week ago, there has been a literal avalanche of individual conversions, Bank of Canada officials disclosed. Many of these conversions were for small amounts, $100 or less, a factor which was specially welcomed by the loan organization since it demonstrated that the people of Canada as a whole are solidly behind the Conversion Loan, just as they were behind the Victory Loan campaigns during the war.

DEADLINE

Twenty per cent. of the Victory Bonds which can be exchanged for the new Conversion issues are still outstanding, however. Those who fail to take advantage of the opportunity to convert their holdings into the higher interest Conversion Bonds before next Monday night will lose the "rights" which they now have, officials pointed out.

HON. DONALD FLEMING

From the outset, the Conversion Loan has been well received by the Canadian public which realized that it was serving both its own and the nation's interests by extending its loans to the government.

The Minister of Finance pointed out that the successful completion of the Conversion Loan would clear the way for not only the Federal Government but also the provinces, municipalities and private businesses to plan necessary financing for future development programs in a confident and orderly manner.

The Conversion Loan is also a major factor in the Government's policy of seeing that the purchasing power of the Canadian dollar is not reduced by the dangers of inflation.

BIG CAMPAIGN

Returns to date have set new records in public financing in Canada, but to attain the complete success that the Government seeks, it is essential that as many as possible of the small $50 and $100 units be converted this week. Final success will depend upon the quick reaction of individuals themselves.

Primarily, it is pointed out, the Canada Conversion Loan serves the individual interests of every Victory Bond holder whether his holding be large or small. It provides these holders with the right to exchange their holdings for new bonds which have the same security as Victory Bonds because they are backed by the nation itself.

Next Monday at the close of business the books will close and the Canada Conversion Loan of 1958 will have become a red letter chapter in Canadian financial history.

Conversion Sidelights

The hunt for Victory Bonds for conversion under Canada's great Conversion Loan has led from cellar to attic with young and old participating. Some unusual items have been turned up in the search.

• Bond dealers found one Victory Bond framed and hanging on the wall in a residence. The lady who owned it regarded it as a recognition from the Government that she had made a contribution to the war effort. She had completely overlooked its cash value.

• An investment dealer in Winnipeg was approached by a 97-year-old gentleman who expressed his confidence in both his own and country's future by offering bonds for conversion to the 25-year 4½ per cent issue.

• A safety deposit box, untouched for 10 years, yielded an individual bonanza of $7,000 in convertible bonds rather than the $700 which the owner had thought it held.

• In Montreal an elderly lady approached a securities company with $20,000 in bonds in a metal biscuit box which she kept in her kitchen.

• A Halifax woman revealed that she kept her bonds in a grocer's paper bag on her grocery shelf in the kitchen. "Burglars would never think of looking there," she explained.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1958

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) - You will be invited today to some affair or business meeting that will give you an opportunity to make some great strides forward with your comrades, also to display some added capability. P.M. is excellent for renewing old acquaintance.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) - An unexpected occurrence at home will change tide of events for you considerably. Accept them in your stride, since they are for the best. Be philosophical and broad-minded. P.M. spend happy evening at residence. Be cheerful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - Aspects are fine for gathering vital data and being full of vim and vigor, becoming better informed. Read your paper for important ideas that will be lucrative. P.M. a good time for real meeting of minds with partners. Take care on the road.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) - Get into a much higher consciousness today, for there are splendid opportunities at hand to increase your abundance immeasurably, if you will but open your mind to them. You deliberate too much. Get real estate improved artistically.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) - A day when all your talents seem to come to the fore at one time. Be careful you do not scatter your forces, and all is well. P.M. dress meticulously and go to smart spots with true friends and have a sparkling good time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) - That deeply ingrained desire can be satisfied today if you will but act upon it instead of just think about it. There are devious ways of achieving your aims. Just stop procrastinating. Tonight is ideal for home pleasures.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) - A kind-hearted pal unexpectedly gives you exactly what is needed to bring your cherished belongings to you. Work with others in a spiritual, co-operative way, which is ideal. P.M. have fun with family, relatives, neighbors.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) - A real opportunity to advance either in job career or political field suddenly presents itself today. Rise to the situation and put your best foot forward. Impressing bigwig most favorably. Succeed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) - Activity is the keynote today. Immediately study your paper, then follow through on ideas found in it which are applicable to you. There are wonderful opportunities open to you right now. Meet vital people. Work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) - Here is the day to properly put over that lucrative business with banking institution or bigwig. But concentrate on the big issues and stop angling so much for real success. Keep it confidential or idea may be stolen from you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) - A perfect day for contact with every associate, friend, newcomer with whom you are currently dealing. Discuss matters at length and come to better meeting of minds, complete understanding of policy. Grow.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) - Laboring diligently at all constructive, healthful and practical matters brings fine results today. Be very active and get on the right side of fellow workers. Getting the approval and approval of authority ideal right now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN WEDNESDAY

The fine, generous child born Wednesday is the cock-of-the-walk type. So it is your duty to permit your youngster to express himself, herself, to the full through proper channels by early guidance, and by showering love upon your delightful progeny. Also, be sure to give as fine a course in business as possible. Excellent chart for the more modern professions, which combine the old with the new.

Colorful Envoys From Afro-Asian Commonwealth Lands Visit City

Representatives of four Commonwealth countries arrived in Victoria Monday evening to pay their respects to British Columbia during her centennial celebrations.

From Ghana, the newest nation in the Commonwealth, came Hon. Ako Adjei, her labor minister, who recalled that Ghana became an independent sovereign member of the Commonwealth in March, 1957.

Malaya, which gained her independence in August of the same year, was represented by Hon. Tan Siew Sin, her minister of trade and industry, and Raja Mohar, controller to the ministry.

Pakistan, which came into being 11 years ago, is represented by her high commissioner to Canada, Mirza Osman Ali Baig; and Ceylon by high commissioner Sir Velupillai Coomaraswamy.

Japanese Talks Hopeful Of Arms Pact

OTTAWA (UPI)—Japanese Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama and Canadian leaders, in a joint communique after two days of informal talks, today expressed the hope that a recent offer by the United States and United Kingdom to suspend nuclear tests for one year would produce "a train of developments" ending in an over-all disarmament agreement.

The communique said that Fujiyama's discussions with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith and Trade Minister Gordon Churchill covered "virtually the whole range of major questions."

It said that the Far Eastern crisis was among the topics, but offered no details on the subject.

The Japanese minister, who arrived in Vancouver six days ago, winds up his Ottawa visit today with a press conference and a dinner given by Japanese Ambassador to Canada Toru Hagiwara.

He leaves Wednesday for Washington and talks with American officials.

Orchard Set For N.B. Talk

Just retired deputy minister of forests for B.C., Dr. C. D. Orchard, will be a guest speaker at a Canadian Institute of Forestry meeting at Fredericton, N.B., in October.

The 50th anniversary meeting of the association will review findings of royal commissions conducted in forestry in all B.C. provinces.

Dr. Orchard will report on the Sloan Commission of 1956. The convention extends Oct. 5 to 8.

Langford Boy Wins Bursary of $1,600

LANGFORD—William Henry Harry White, of Langford, has been granted an Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire bursary for 1958 to be used for university study, it was announced today.

The $1,600 bursary is from the order's Second War Memorial Trust Fund.

Nineteen other Canadian high school students received similar grants.

U.S. Protest Revealed On New Customs Bill

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA—The United States government has handed the Canadian government a strongly worded note of protest over the amendments to the Customs Act, passed at the last session, on the grounds that some of the provisions are a contravention of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Ambassador Livingston Merchant handed the note to Hon. Sidney Smith, secretary of state for external affairs, in Ottawa, Sept. 3. Substance of the diplomatic note of protest was conveyed orally to the Canadian government before the bill came

Liz-Eddie Romance 'Garbage'

NEW YORK (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor today characterized as "garbage" reports that she is romantically interested in singer Eddie Fisher, with whom she has been nightclubbing.

Miss Taylor and Fisher made separate departures early Monday from an East Side night club, apparently to quiet gossip arising from their being seen together.

She was asked today about published stories that hinted Fisher would break up with his wife, Debbie Reynolds, because of her. "I'm not interested in that kind of garbage," Miss Taylor said sharply.

In Hollywood, Miss Reynolds, wearing white pyjamas and a negligee, emerged from her home late in the morning and picked up newspapers from the driveway.

"I never heard of such a thing," she said indignantly, and went back into the house.

Immigrant Total Drops to 67,744

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada admitted 67,744 immigrants in the first half of this year compared with 182,416 in the same period last year, the immigration department said today.

Biggest group was destined for manufacturing and mechanical work. The largest group, 34,400—headed for Ontario.

Convicted Slayer 12th Reprieved Under Tory Rule

OTTAWA (UPI)—The department of justice today announced that the death sentence imposed on John Krukowski, convicted of the murder of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rose Krukowski, last Jan. 31 at Sedalia, Alta., has been commuted to life imprisonment in the Saskatchewan Penitentiary.

Krukowski is the 12th person sentenced to be hanged to have his sentence commuted to life imprisonment since the Conservative government took office in June, 1957.

Diamonds were first found by diggers in Kimberley, South Africa, in 1870.

confidence

Few business relationships are more intimate than those of a man and "his trust company". In order to render a thoughtful and skilful service in matters as personal as the welfare of his family, the trust company must justify the kind of confidence that reveals both a man's aspirations and his expectations.

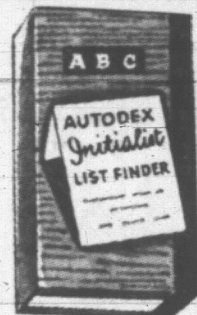

For this reason the selection of a trustee for his estate is one of the most important decisions any man is called upon to make on behalf of his family.

We would appreciate the opportunity of demonstrating to you that we understand those responsibilities.

Canadian Fishermen Must Quit

Canadian sockeye fishermen, after reaping what will almost certainly be a record crop, have been ordered off the fishing grounds as of 6 p.m. today to enable their U.S. counterparts to catch up.

Decision was made by the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries commission, which strives each year to equalize the catches of Canadian and U.S. fishermen.

Canadians are currently 539,000 fish ahead of the Americans, for a total of over 4,000,000 fish—the greatest catch since the Hell's Gate canyon slide of 1913, possibly the greatest ever.

Closure to Canadians is tantamount to the end of the season, as the run will likely peter out before the closure is lifted.

Waters closed are those on the Canadian side of Juan de Fuca Strait, and the area between Victoria and the mouth of the Fraser on the Canadian side of the boundary.

Murder Try Aboard Ship On High Seas

PLYMOUTH, Eng. (Reuters)—A Royal Navy frigate steamed through the Atlantic at full speed today to a British freighter which reported an attempted murder aboard and called for urgent attention for one of the crew dying from severe wounds.

The master of the London-registered 7,368-ton Brockleymoor radioed from a position well out from southwest Ireland that attempts had been made to murder two Indian members of the crew.

One man was not expected to live and the other had serious concussion.

A suspect was under close arrest, the distress message said.

The admiralty ordered the frigate Orwell, at Plymouth, to go to the Brockleymoor's aid.

Injured were: PO Gerald McDermann, 40, of 406 Prileane Crescent, Belmont, and PO Wil-

Key Loss For Ike In Maine

Democrats Capture 4 of 5 Major Seats

(From Times News Services) President Eisenhower today sized up a Democratic sweep in the Maine elections as a Republican Party beating there is no use trying to disguise.

Eisenhower's reaction of disappointment to the victory of Governor Edmund S. Muskie over the incumbent Republican F. E. Payne, was reported by Press Secretary James Hagerty.

Democrats in the state won a United States Senate seat for the first time in 47 years. They also retained the governorship and scored three other major triumphs.

The outcome dealt a great blow to Republican hopes for recapturing control of Congress, but Hagerty said Eisenhower hopes "it may help a little in making everybody work a little harder for the November elections."

WHAT ABOUT ADAMS?

Hagerty replied "I don't know—I haven't any comment" when asked what effect, if any, the Democrats' success in Maine would have on the tenure of Sherman Adams as Eisenhower's chief aide.

But a moment later the press secretary indicated once again that he does not look for Adams to leave—willingly or unwillingly—at this time.

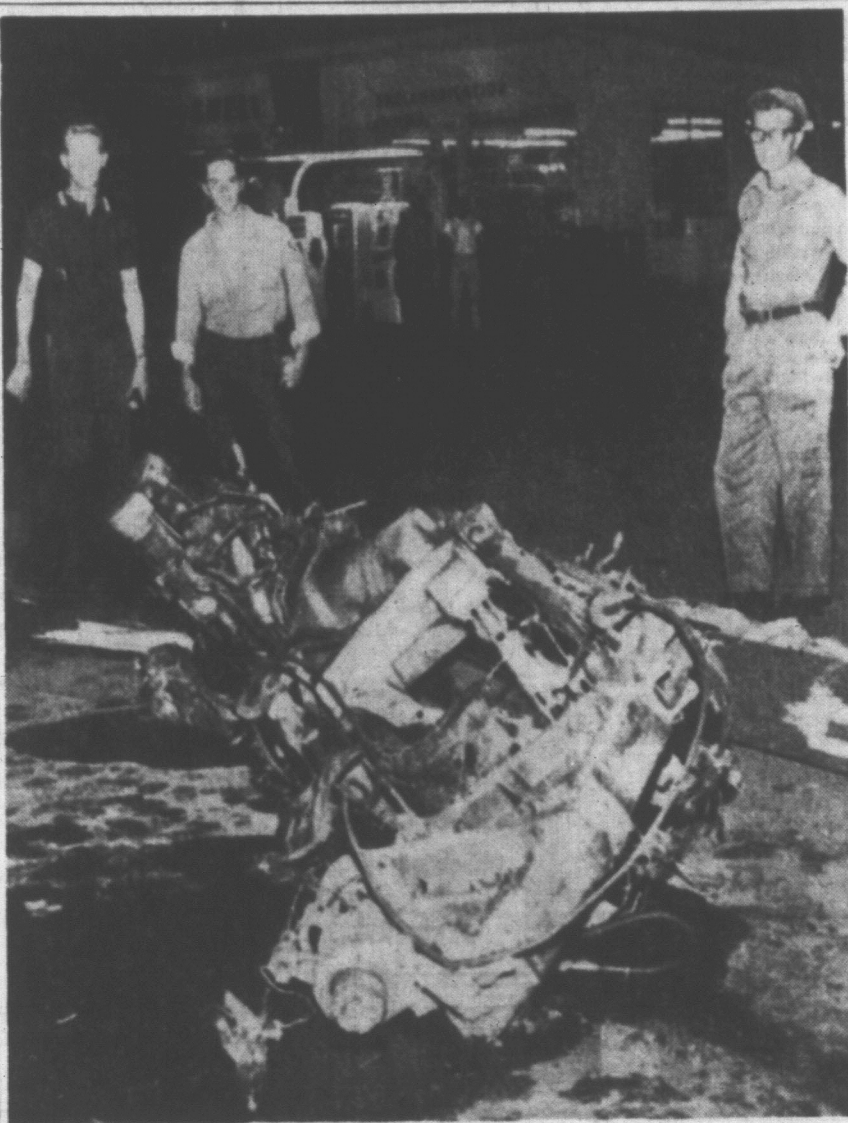

(While the new Senator-elect Muskie had not stressed it during the election campaign there was frequent comment from other sources that Goldfine had lent $3,500 to the defeated Republican Payne toward purchase of a house, gave a vicuna coat to him and paid some of his hotel bills.)

Democrats in Washington hailed their Maine election victory today as proof that voters are "sick of drift and indecision" and ready to repudiate Adams' "favoritism and gift-taking."

Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee said the spectacular party gains in the traditionally Republican state were both a tribute to Democratic candidates and party workers and evidence of "a strong national trend favoring the Democratic party."

The smashing victory, greatest in half a century, pointed the way for the Democrats to enlarge their slender majorities in Congress when the other 47 states vote on Nov. 4. The Republicans have just eight weeks to come up with something to change the trend.

Butler said the Maine results demonstrate the failure of Republican efforts to convince the voters "that unemployment is prosperity, that corruption is honesty, that drift is leadership, that the mess in the Middle East and the Straits of Formosa is peace..."

LONDON (AP)—Prof. W. M. Parker, lecturer in geography at the University of Manitoba, said today he is "convinced" nuclear explosions are causing poor weather in the northern hemisphere.

2 Aboard Lost Plane

EDMONTON (CP)—Five aircraft left here today in search of a Pacific Western Airlines Beaver with two men aboard, overdue on a 40-mile flight in the heavy bushland north of Grande Prairie in Peace River country. The pilot is Maynard Richard Bolman, 29, of Edmonton. His passenger was unidentified.

13 Die as Jets Crash at Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A B-52 jet bomber sliced into the side of another at sundown Monday night and both crashed in flames near a busy highway. Thirteen of the 16 men aboard were killed.

A 200-pound chunk of landing gear sailed through the air, smashed through a service station sign and skidded to rest on the shoulder of No. 2 Highway, a main link between Spokane and Seattle.

The $8,000,000 B-52s, prime atom bomb carriers of the Strategic Air Command, were making routine landings at Fairchild air force base when they collided about 1,500 feet over the highway.

Joe Martella, a service station attendant, said both planes were turning at the time.

"I looked up when I heard a tremendous roar from the engines of one plane," he said. "The pilot seemed to be trying to get out of the way. Then they hit. The wing of one hit the other right behind the cockpit and it looked like it was cut in two."

12,000 GALLONS

"It scared the pants off me," said the station owner, Mike Anderson, who for a few terrifying seconds sat atop a potential bomb.

The station, with 12,000 gallons of gasoline in tanks below the pavement, was scarcely 40 yards away from the pile of burning plane wreckage.

Red China Must Renounce Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles hinted today that the United States is ready to offer concessions if Red China will renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles told a press conference he could not go into details in advance of expected diplomatic talks with Red China at Warsaw.

At the same time, Dulles emphasized again that the U.S. believes it is essential to the free world's "defence posture" in the Far East to maintain a firm stand against Red Chinese threats to conquer Nationalist-held islands in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles indicated that if Red China were to attack today, the U.S. would help the Nationalist defenders, at first logistically and later with American fighting men if the Nationalists were unable to beat back the Communist invaders.

But Dulles refused to spell out precisely what the U.S. would do in any given circumstance.

And he stressed that despite the tension he expects no war. He acknowledged, however, that the situation could be compared with Korea and the blockade of Berlin.

Dulles told reporters U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw got in touch today with Red China's Ambassador Wang Pingnan. He said Beam told Wang the U.S. was ready at any time to start talking. No precise date was suggested.

In reply to a question Dulles said the U.S. would seek agreement along detailed specific lines instead of along general lines as in previous fruitless talks with Red China.

Evacuation of Islands Queried

Dulles said that if the Chinese Reds agreed to a meaningful renunciation of force, that would alter the situation. Consequences would flow from this, but he could not spell them out in advance because they involved relations with the rights of an ally—Nationalist China.

Dulles was asked whether the U.S. would recommend evacuation of Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands held by Nationalist China if the Peiping regime agreed to renounce force.

He replied that the U.S. could not itself negotiate the future of the offshore islands since they belong to Nationalist China. But he said a Red Chinese renunciation of force, if effective and dependable, would certainly be a new element.

Dulles also said: 1. Whether U.S. warships conveying Nationalist supplies would fire back at any Communist assault on them would depend upon whether the attack was accidental or deliberate. If deliberate, the U.S. ships could be expected to take some counter action.

2. United Nations action might be useful to ease Formosa tensions. But he noted Communist China refused four years ago to accept intervention on the grounds the Formosa dispute was a purely internal matter.

3. As of this time, the president has not decided irrevocably to fight for the offshore islands.

Reds Still Pouring Shells on Quemoy

Meanwhile the Communist bombardment of Quemoy crashed on today. The Nationalist defence minister said the Reds fired a record 53,000 shells at Quemoy in 10 hours 47 minutes up to 12:20 a.m. today.

Then shelling slackened off to sporadic gunfire that continued until dawn, stopped for almost five hours, and resumed with a 1,200-shell barrage in slightly more than three hours.

Peiping radio continued to report millions of Chinese demonstrating on the mainland against the United States.

The official Peiping Peoples Daily said Red Chinese warnings against U.S. violations of the 12-mile limit were "no empty threats."

A call for Soviet restraint on Communist China was the U.S. reaction to Russian demand of Monday for American withdrawal from the Formosa Strait area.

The statement added: "The evident cause of the danger is the unprovoked military action taken by the Chinese Communists."

DR. JOHN REDFORD stricken with appendicitis

Fog Stops Air Rescue At Plateau

A helicopter today was turned back by heavy fog in the Forbidden Plateau area in an attempt to rescue a Victoria hiker stricken with acute appendicitis.

A ground search party of nine airmen from the RCAF Comox base, and one RCMP constable, left at 1 p.m. in an attempt to bring the stricken man out by land.

He is Dr. John Redford, 30, a recent graduate of Mayo Clinic, now attending Washington State College. In Victoria, he and his wife were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Redford, 105 Beach Drive.

Dr. Redford and his brother, Hamish, went hiking on the plateau Sunday, and while at Mackenzie Lake, about 18 miles west of Courtenay, high in the Forbidden Plateau area, John was stricken.

BECAME WORSE

Monday his attack became worse. By good fortune another hiking party of three UBC students, Ruth Orton, Phyllis Calvert, 3107 Balfour, and Pat Gill, all of Victoria, came upon them. Miss Orton and Miss Calvert are student nurses.

They stayed with John at a cabin near the lake while Hamish and Miss Gill tramped the seven miles out to Forbidden Plateau Lodge for help.

They reached the lodge at 4 a.m. today.

RCMP at Courtenay were informed, and they requested Okanagan Helicopters in Vancouver to send a machine to Dr. Redford's rescue.

The copter was escorted across Georgia Strait by an RCAF Canso, and landed at Comox air base. It took off at 11 a.m., with pilots Bob Poole at the controls, and Sgt. Neil Lacroix, RCAF, as guide.

At 11:20 a.m., the machine passed over Forbidden Plateau Lodge, but visibility was so bad the pilot could not proceed.

He returned to Comox at 11:40 a.m., and arrangements were made immediately to start a ground rescue.

The rescue party is led by Sgt. Lacroix, and is equipped with a stretcher and first aid equipment.

Dr. Redford is about 25 miles from the air base, about 10 of which can be covered by truck, the rest on foot.

It is estimated it will take at least six hours to complete the rescue.

Earliest estimated time of arrival back at base would be 8 p.m., an RCMP spokesman said.

RCAF doctors are ready for action when the party returns, and they will decide whether or not he is to be transferred to another hospital, or will be treated in the air base sick bay.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our gracious Lord, in a world where everything changes, we would pray Thee to open our eyes continually to the eternal verities that are at the very heart of the universe and afford us hope in this world and the world to come. Help us to lean steadily upon Thine everlasting arms of love and find in them the security we need; in Jesus' name. Amen.

NEWARK, N.J.—Police dispatcher Frank Hughes said a man called him and announced: "I want to make a complaint."

"What kind of a complaint?" asked Hughes.

"A complaint of a breaking and entry into a safe in Dugan's. I'd have been in the blank blank thing if my drill hadn't broken," then he hung up.

Police checked the office of Dugan Bros., Incorporated. They found a hole had been smashed in the roof and the combination of the safe knocked off. There was a single drill mark on the safe.

Seaman Faces Formal Charge; Remand Granted

A 24-hour special guard is being kept on murder suspect Leo Anthony Mantha, 31, of 451 Superior, in the city jail as he awaits preliminary hearing.

Mantha is charged with murdering AB Aaron H. Jenkins, 23, as he slept in his bunk at RCN naval barracks, HMCS Naden early Saturday.

Jenkins died in Naden Hospital shortly after 2 a.m., of a stab wound in the upper chest.

The accused, who had been employed as a tugboat worker, was formally charged in Esquimalt police court Monday.

Alan Macfarlane, appearing for Mantha, asked for a remand to next Monday afternoon on grounds he had had no opportunity to discuss the case with his client.

It was thought Mantha's preliminary would not be proceeded with until Sept. 22.

INQUEST WAIVED

An inquest into the fatality was waived Monday on instruction by the attorney-general's department.

The navy will hold a routine inquiry, without civil legal status, probably Wednesday.

Mantha was brought into the court room by an Esquimalt police constable, who has been stationed outside the suspect's cell since he was taken into custody Saturday morning.

The accused wore a white dress shirt, open at the neck, with grey slacks, and stood straight in the prisoner's box looking at Magistrate H. C. Hall. He did not speak.

Mantha's heavy, dark features did not change when the murder charge was read to him, but as he stood still his eyes blinked rapidly several times under their bushy, black brows.

The man is of stocky build, of medium height, dark complexion and has thick, black, curly hair.

Comet Clips Cairo Record As First Plane In Since Suez

CAIRO (UPI)—The first British Overseas Airways plane to land at Cairo since the 1956 Anglo-French invasion of Suez set a new record Monday.

A BOAC Comet IV jet made a test flight from London in four hours, 45 minutes. It was the first BOAC craft to land at the airport since a ban on the government-owned airline's flights was imposed in October, 1956. The United Arab Republic permitted BOAC special exemption from the ban for yesterday's first leg of a proving flight from London to Bombay and Hong Kong.

DEATH PENALTY TO 5 RUSSIANS WHO WENT NAZI

MOSCOW (AP)—Five Russians described as traitors who collaborated with the Nazis have been sentenced to death by a military tribunal in southern Russia. A sixth defendant received a 25-year prison term.

The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star said the six "renegades and degenerates" had been found after hiding out for 15 years.

The six went over to Hitler, the newspaper said, when the Nazis occupied the southwest part of Russia, and "killed and tortured hundreds of Soviet people." All the defendants pleaded guilty to the charges of war atrocities, the newspaper said, and were sentenced to face a firing squad.

BCE Bus Fare Probe Moves to Vancouver

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady will represent Greater Victoria Friday at a Public Utilities Commission meeting in Vancouver winding up its hearings of B.C. Electric Company's application for bus fare increases.

Final arguments on the application were reserved for the Vancouver meeting Monday following an all-day hearing in the Legislative Building which saw Mr. O'Grady make a vain attempt to have the company's books opened to the public.

Mr. O'Grady asked that a detailed financial report the company is compelled to make to the PUC each year should be given to all interested parties to the hearing.

BCE vice-president and solicitor, A. B. Robertson, opposed the suggestion.

SOMETHING TO HIDE?

"What have they got to hide?" asked Mr. O'Grady. "Why should they object to making a disclosure of their affairs? What is confidential about that information?"

Mr. Robertson said the report should not be made public just because it had some figures that might be relevant. That did not mean everything should be disclosed.

PUC chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said particular information could be requested. But the commission would have to give very careful consideration to any request for disclosure of the full report.

Mr. O'Grady did not press the point.

Japanese Want GI for Shooting

TOKYO (AP)—Justice Minister Kichii Aichi said today the Japanese government will insist on jurisdiction over an American airman whose shot from a U.S. air base gate killed a Japanese student on a train.

Tokyo newspapers indicated that if the United States doesn't turn Airman Peter E. Longpre over to the Japanese, the Americans will have another Girard case on their hands.

Aichi told a cabinet meeting he didn't think the shooting occurred during "performance of official duty" although Longpre was on guard duty at the entrance of Johnson air base when his carbine went off Sunday.

The 19-year-old airman said the gun fired accidentally and he did not know it was loaded. The bullet passed through a window of a passing train and hit Sachiyo Miyamura.

The U.S. Air Force is still investigating the shooting and is holding Longpre.

Under a U.S.-Japanese agreement, offences committed by American military personnel in performance of duty come under U.S. military jurisdiction, while "off-duty" offences are handled by Japanese courts.

In the case of Specialist William Girard in 1957, Japan maintained similarly that although on guard duty on an army firing range, Girard was not performing his assigned duty when he shot a Japanese woman, scrap collector in the back and killed her. The U.S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Japanese jurisdiction. Girard got off with a suspended sentence.

YOU CAN AFFORD TO FORGET—IMPERIAL CAN'T

...because four generations of Canadians have come to depend on Imperial products on the road, on the farm, in the home.

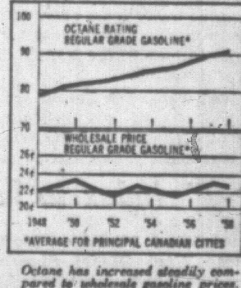

Imperial started supplying Canadians with oil products in the very early days of the industry in Canada... in fact, 1880 was the year it made its start in this business.

In most areas of Canada, it was an Imperial refinery which first began making oil products locally.

Imperial pioneered, too, in supplying

Canadians with products when and where they were needed. (As far back as 1907, Imperial opened the first service station in Canada... and perhaps in the world.)

Today, as over the past 78 years, Imperial recognizes its responsibility to bring Canadians the most modern of oil products at the lowest possible price.

Leave Us Our Gentle 'Flu

THE United States public health service has recommended influenza vaccination for key groups and individuals before fall.

On my own behalf and for other hypochondriacs, I rise to protest.

The prospect of going through autumn, winter, spring and into next summer in robust, back-slapping good health, without a sniffle, is unthinkable.

That should be expected of no one. Every person has the right to a certain mild bout of 'flu. To every one should be allowed the modicum of self-pity and sympathy a short snort of influenza inspires. And without a mild infection, the individual becomes an offense to his less immune friends.

It is my theory—unsubstantiated by any psychologist or psychiatrist of note, as far as I know—that a person needs a little ill-health, or the appearances of ill-health. Without these small lapses, he becomes only the willing horse, expected to do his share of work and a great deal more, while others subject to mild afflictions are relieved of their portion of the burden.

Moreover, a man needs a break in the course of that often dreary stretch between one summer and the next. There may be better ways of acquiring such a break, but they escape me.

One of the gentle pleasures of life for those from whom the bloom of youth is fading, or has faded, is a smidgin of the "vapours" as they used to be called in the ladies' books.

Take a grey, drizzly morning, with an uninteresting schedule ahead at the office and the prospects of an evening chore with little appeal. Figure it as part of a succession of uninteresting, grey days.

In robust good health a person is expected to rise and face the ordeal. He's expected to be cheerful, encouraging to his work mates and able to bat in the high percentages.

But let him come down with a running nose—not running to the point where it becomes sore, but running nevertheless—and the mild aches and lethargy which accompany an onset of 'flu, and he has a first-class excuse to dodge the whole disagreeable issue of grey day and boring work.

Given some meagre histrionic talent, he can even evoke a degree of sympathy for himself at home. He can be coaxed to stay in his warm bed, can be persuaded to take his nourishment there, can be encouraged to do a little light reading propped up against a mountain of pillows and, when bed palls, can even be brought, in dressing gown and slippers to an easy chair before a blazing fire of somebody else's kindling.

That is a dull autumn-winter pleasure that should be denied no man, not even a member of a key group. That is one of the few luxuries left those of us who are hypochondriacs. Who, we ask, wastes tender solicitude on a person in robust health?

On the other hand, who can deny solace to the figure, taken down by 'flu, who looks wistfully pale from his white pillows with spaniel gratitude toward any showing him kindness?

There are, of course, more practical reasons against vaccination—reasons that have nothing to do with its medical virtues, which aren't challenged here. But if a person can't have a little 'flu, what can he have?

And how can he know he's in robust health if he has no occasional mild indisposition to furnish a contrast? Also, how is he going to break into the conventional fall-winter conversation if he has no ailment to provide him with subject matter?

YOUR HEALTH

A number of mothers write about a sleep-walking (somnambulist) son who, at night, tends to get up and walk around. One woman says that one night her son was found walking half a mile from home, apparently asleep. She wants to know what can be done to stop him from doing this again. Another woman says her rather sullen son is a problem because if, while sleep-walking, someone in the family tries to wake him, he fights back with his fists.

I was just reading a few articles on sleep-walking as it was seen in army barracks during the Second World War. The writers agreed that many of the sleep-walkers came from families in which there was a tendency to epilepsy; and when electroencephalograms were made, these often showed an epileptic type of "dysrhythmic" or irregular record. In most cases, there was no history of the lads ever having had a fit; but in many instances the mother, when interviewed, said that her boy had always been hard to raise and handle.

He had been violent, or hot-tempered, hard to control, hard to discipline, and hard to keep in line at school. In many cases he had had terrible nightmares, in which he might scream. Some of the sleep-walkers were bright, but one in four did poorly in school. In some cases the doctors could get no history of any relative with fits, but usually they learned of relatives who had a violent temper, or who were alcoholic or at times somewhat mixed-up mentally.

Whenever I see a case like this I have a set of electroencephalograms made, and especially when they are typical of epilepsy, and when some members of the family behave like irritable epileptics, I try the effect of dilantin or some other anti-convulsive drug. Often this helps greatly.

As I write this, a mother comes in to ask me what she can do for a bad-tempered boy who can't sit still, and can't concentrate on any reading. I am sending him to a neurologist for a good examination and for the making of electroencephalograms. If these records of brain activity should suggest epilepsy, I think the neurologist will want to see what some dilantin—perhaps with a little mebaral (a sedative)—will do to quiet the lad.

A woman asks about Addison's disease. This is a very rare condition due to the destruction of a part of the adrenal glands. These are located on top of the kidneys, in the loins. In the old days, people with Addison's disease developed a dark skin; they became very thin and very weak, and after a while, died. Today, they can be kept alive usually for years. All a few need do is to get enough sodium chloride, or common table salt, into them, while others need drugs of the cortisone type. They have to be particularly careful when they go into a crisis of vomiting, or when they have an acute infection, or when they have to have an operation. Then they must be given a cortisone-like drug.

If I had such a rare disease, I'd like to go to a huge clinic. Why? Because only there would I find men who were constantly seeing patients with my trouble. If a patient with Addison's disease were to come to me for treatment, I wouldn't take him; I'd confess frankly that I do not see a case in 10 years, and hence must get what little I know about the disease from books.

A few doctors don't approve of big clinics, but such clinics are wonderful when it comes to the diagnosing and treating of the very rare diseases. Only a man in a great clinic or hospital can specialize so narrowly that in 20 years he can see dozens or scores or hundreds of patients with some very unusual complaint, such as Addison's disease.

HOME GARDEN

Clean-Up Fires Still Dangerous

Recently we suggested that soil which is not growing plants should be growing a soil improvement crop such as fall rye.

It now appears that we missed out part of the instructions, not through carelessness, but because we thought them obvious.

Not mentioned was the fact that in a dry season it is necessary to water the sowing of rye just as one waters the newly-sown lawn at this time of year.

Seeds, as we know, will not germinate in a dry soil, also their ability to germinate is impaired if they lie in a hot soil. Therefore we need for keeping the surface soil moist until the seed has germinated and the plantlets are well established, or until we have had sufficient rain to thoroughly moisten the soil.

The mention of rain recalls a recent noon weather broadcast by Bill Mackie in which he warned gardeners that overcast skies and the infrequent shower do not make conditions safe for the indiscriminate burning of rubbish.

Each evening the air is filled with bonfire smoke, and we have noticed some fires of definitely dangerous proportions.

While the gardener may exercise every care to see that the fire is built clear of anything which may burn, the dryness of the material causes a fierce blaze with a terrific updraft which carries firebrands over nearby fields, gardens and buildings.

If you must burn before the heavy rains come (1) be sure to obtain your burning permit from the local fire department; (2) burn small quantities of rubbish at a time and have the water hose and a shovel handy to keep the blaze under control; (3) watch where the firebrands travel; (4) see that the ashes are completely extinguished before leaving the remains for the night.

UNLIKE ZSA ZSA GABOR who is reported to have said "Of course I want to get married — but who can afford me?", actress Kim Novak, walking the grounds of her $80,000 Hollywood home with Tracy, her dog, says she's a girl in search of a husband — playboys barred. Tracy is about Kim's only male companion since her brief, highly publicized romance with Dominican Gen. Trujillo. (AP Wirephoto).

$12,000 ALREADY IN KITTY

With three weeks still to go before the start of the campaign, the Community Chest already has $12,000 in the kitty.

It came in the form of cheques and, said advance gifts-chairman Archie Smith today, they're still coming. The division hopes to pull in $100,000 this year, $40,000 more than the 1957 target.

Chest campaign meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m. Wednesday at Spencerhouse.

WHY I SUPPORT COMMUNITY CHEST

Today: Sonja Strandlie, Victoria College arts student.

"I have seen great suffering in hospitals, in the streets and I don't see any other way of helping these people if we don't support the Chest.

"Some of my best friends have been victims of misfortune, so I think I have good reason for supporting this organization. "The only way we can help people—and we all know how much work there is to be done—is by getting together and tackling this thing as a community.

"That is what the Chest is for. It would be very wrong not to get behind it and push it along. If we don't, who will?

The Day YOU Were Born

JULIA CROSS, 1120 Craigflower Road, is a grade five pupil at Lampson Street School. She plays golf on the Gorge Vale course sometimes—her father is a member and Julia wants to be a golfer like Daddy. She is an active little girl, loves her two cats and all other animals.

On the day she was born:

B.C.'s 17,000 Chinese had high hopes of getting the municipal franchise. A delegation of Chinese leaders spoke in support of civic voting rights for Canadians of Chinese heritage at the convention of The Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Seven provinces banded together to try to stop a new railway freight increase.

John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party urged that the ban on oleomargarine should not be removed. It would, he said, "inflict a further handicap on the dairy industry."

Mr. J. G. Taggart, chairman of the Agricultural Prices Support Board, said the forecasts of a critical butter shortage were greatly exaggerated, and that there was a two months' supply of butter in storage, and production was climbing.

The Emperor Waltz was showing at the Royal. The date? September 9, 1948, a Thursday.

GEN. E. L. M. BURNS
... predicts trouble

Middle East Flareup Seen by UNEF Chief

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A new flareup in the Middle East before long is predicted by Lt. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force policing the Gaza Strip between Egypt and Israel, according to an interview published in the Tiroler Tageszeitung.

The newspaper interviewed the Canadian general during his vacation. Burns said the situation in the Middle East is "not only very complicated but very unstable."

"And this instability will be a long-range problem throughout the Arab world. There will be a flareup of new difficulties before long."

REFUGEE PROBLEM

Burns said the Arab refugee problem in Palestine was a primary cause of the "complicated state of affairs" and added: "As long as this problem remains unsolved the pressure on Israel will not decrease, and it will be impossible to remove the bitterness of the Arab refugees in particular and of the Arabs in general."

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, now on a peace tour of the Middle East, "has his hands full to keep the fires quenched there so that there is not a conflagration."

Burns said the Arabs are striving for unity but there are still many obstacles on the way to this goal, mainly because of what he called "the individual Arab's poorly developed capability of independent political thinking."

Frost Sees Need For Provincial Bill of Rights

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said Monday it may be desirable to pass a provincial bill of rights as complementary legislation to a bill introduced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Diefenbaker last week.

Mr. Frost said he would welcome approaches by the federal government to draft an over-all declaration of human rights.

He suggested a conference between federal and provincial representatives "to iron out the uncertain places in our constitution" and find a way to permit the Canadian government to amend the British North America Act.

SHOWERS-SHINE PATTERN STAYS

Weather will be unchanged for Victoria Wednesday—cloudy with some sunny periods and scattered rains overnight in some areas. The local weather pattern is general throughout B.C., with less rain expected in the interior. Rain is heavier on the north coast.

Esquimalt Tory Delegates Face Vote Disqualification

By FETE LOUDON

A majority of Esquimalt delegates to the B.C. Progressive Conservative party convention at Vancouver Thursday may be denied voting rights, it was learned today.

A petition has been filed with the party executive, protesting qualifications of eight of 12 delegates named Aug. 12.

Included in the list to be protested is the name of new president of the Esquimalt District Association, W. J. Hughes. Basis of complaint is that the eight delegates were not at the time, and are not now, members of the Esquimalt association.

The constitution requires voters and nominees to be members in good standing for 30 days.

The petition, headed by four veteran members who have held various leadership positions locally in past years, charges many delegates named were formerly strangers to the association.

The four leading signatories are Mrs. Myrtle Hayes, Mrs. Annie McVie, Capt. F. W. de P. Taylor and Hugh Piggott.

The dispute is based on attempts of two factions, one supporting Tory leader Deane Finlayson and one supporting his opponent Dr. Desmond Kidd.

Seven delegates elected at the Aug. 12 meeting were on a slate put forward by Kidd campaigners.

Kidd campaign workers, according to observers within the party, "packed" the meeting. Although hardly more than a dozen persons have attended Esquimalt district meetings in the past, more than 100 were present on the night in question.

Many of the persons voting carried lists of names described by Kidd supporters as "our people." It is claimed now that acting chairman, Capt. R. H. Fort, did not order a check of membership qualifications, but asked merely for residence proof.

MISTAKE ADMITTED

It was reported today that Capt. Fort has since written to the provincial executive stating he made a mistake.

It is also charged that only about 35 at the meeting were qualified to stand as delegates or cast votes.

If the decision of the executive is to withdraw credentials from the Esquimalt delegates whose qualifications are challenged, there is little likelihood there will be time to name new delegates, even if it were constitutional.

Some observers feel the situation will be a telling blow to the Kidd campaign, which already is considered lacking support in this area.

Girl on Bicycle Crashes Into Car, Suffers Abrasions

Thirteen-year-old cyclist Darlene Wilson, 2960 Henderson, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for hip, hand and foot abrasions after her bicycle was in collision with a car driven by Solweig Bergman, 18, YWCA, at 7:20 p.m., Monday.

Herbert Severson, 61, of 174 Bushby, was treated for hand and leg injuries and discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital after he was in collision with a car at Blanshard and McClure at 11 p.m. Monday.

City police said the driver was Roland Wallace, 1331 Denman.

City Hall has approved a four-day "peanut drive" in December to raise money for charitable works.

Organizations conducting the drive, Dec. 3 to 6, will be: Victoria Chapter, Order of De Molay; Cerebral Palsy Association; Bethel No. 2 and 27, Job's Daughters; and 89th Squadron (Kinsmen) Air Cadets.

Slug-a-Beds Pay More if Court's Summons Ignored

For those who are interested, it is no excuse to say you slept in if you fail to appear in city police court in answer to a summons.

Jimmy Lee, 809 Yates, was assessed an extra $15.00 court costs today for his true, but sadly inadequate reason for not appearing on a meter violation charge.

He pleaded guilty and was fined $25.00 and $5 costs. He said he missed court when first summoned because he was working night shift and "could not get up" to go to court.

"You just preferred to sleep in. That's about the worst excuse I've heard," Magistrate H. C. Hall said.

Theft of Tires Draws $100 Fine On Guilty Plea

Donald Campbell Paterson, 43, of 1211 Alderman, was fined $100 in city police court today for theft of tires valued at $77.50 from Dickinson & Dunn Tire Ltd., 1620 Blanshard, Sept. 2.

Paterson pleaded guilty to theft over $50 value when he appeared in court last week and was remanded for probation report.

Police found two tires in the trunk of Paterson's car when they stopped him on Alderman near his home later the day of the theft.

The accused told Magistrate H. C. Hall, "I started drinking in the morning . . . went downtown . . . and the tires were in the trunk."

Dock Strike Threatens To Close Three Mills

The president of B.C. Forest Products Ltd. said today the company's mills at Victoria, Youbou and Crofton would be closed down due to the longshoremen's strike "as soon as all available storage areas are filled."

He declined to say how soon the company would run out of storage space.

Some 1,200 employees would be laid off.

Mr. C. D. Dickey told the Times the dockers' strike had "completely cut off export of all lumber and pulp shipments" from the three mills, "despite the fact we are not a party to the dispute."

"The costs involved have been staggering. Unless the union is prepared to return to work our plants will be forced to cut down for the duration of the strike as soon as all available storage areas are filled."

The B.C. Forest Products president said the effect of the strike was "of very great concern to the company and its employees."

"Of equal concern," he added, "is the effect of the delay in shipments upon our customers. We have received word from our pulp agents abroad that B.C. has acquired a reputation as a strike-torn area and is coming to be considered as an insecure and unreliable source of supply."

Nineteenth Day of Strike Deadlock

The strike is now in its 19th day. At issue between the 1,300 longshoremen and the B.C. Shipping Federation are a contributory pensions plan, 61-cents-an-hour pay increase, eight-hour day and four-hour minimum "call-out" time.

No further talks are scheduled since they broke down a week ago.

Monday, manager Cy Head of the Victoria grain elevator said 25 men would be laid off as soon as the elevator was filled with grain in about 10 days' time.

"We are losing money every day," he said, "and we shall just have to close down. All our men will be out of work."

Monday, federation manager George McKee termed "inaccurate" recent statement by union official William Henderson that the shippers were unwilling to co-operate in settling the dispute.

"The federation can hardly be accused of saying 'No' all the time when it has already offered two new pension plans to the union, both of which embodied benefits," Mr. McKee said.

He said the union's wage demand of 61 cents an hour was "greatly in excess of the demands of any other labor group."

Mr. McKee said "to hear the longshoremen casually talk of a 12-month strike certainly highlights the union's complete disregard for the public's welfare in western Canada."

Earlier, Mr. Henderson said the longshoremen "could hold out for a year, or for ever if need be."

"We are not backing down on this thing," he added. "We are going to stay out on strike until we get what we are asking for, no matter how long it takes. Our demands are not unreasonable. They are in keeping with labor practices throughout Canada."

Master Labor Pact Hailed by Leaders

Victoria labor leaders today hailed the announcement that unions and management in Vancouver are working on a master labor agreement covering the B.C. construction industry.

The object is to avoid strikes next year.

Said James Moffat, president of Vancouver Island Building Trades Council:

"Such an agreement would certainly solve a lot of our problems. It would stabilize the industry and keep the work going ahead."

Talks indicate a special labor-management committee will first try to work out a master agreement for basic trades—carpenters, teamsters, laborers and operating engineers in the lower mainland area.

If the attempt is successful, an effort will be made to bring these trades throughout the province under the same agreement. Then the committee will try to bring in all other trades.

The master agreement would cover especially working conditions. Pay rates would be left to normal negotiations by the unions concerned. Under the plan, individual agreements would expire at the same time, so that industry and unions would not be faced with separate and intermittent strikes.

Official Recommends Ferry Wages Formula

Mediator Craig Munroe today sent his report to Labor Minister Lyle Wicks after three weeks of talks in the Black Ball ferry pay dispute involving three seamen's unions.

Basis of the report is an undisclosed "wage formula."

A statement released by Mr. Munroe says: "While the company and each of the unions have shown a reluctance to commit themselves at this time pending settlement of the CPR dispute, I am of the opinion there is reason for cautious optimism that the wage formula suggested by me may prove acceptable."

The report continues: "If the parties wish to delay settlement until the CPR issue is resolved, I have suggested a course of action . . . that may be adopted."

Mr. Munroe adds that "nothing can be accomplished by further mediation efforts at this time."

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Oshawa returned today. Fortune, James Bay, Cowichan, Miramichi return 8 a.m., Sept. 25. Skeena, Athabaskan, Cayuga return 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. Stettler returns 8:30 a.m. Wednesday. Antigonish, Jonquiere return 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

BUSINESS CIRCLES A-BUZZ

By JOHN MIKA

Biggest shopping centre development in Victoria's history is being planned by eastern Canada interests. The secrecy-shrouded venture kept city business circles buzzing with speculation today.

Only four Victorians are aware of details but they are keeping mum.

First hint of the development was read into a chance remark by Mayor Percy Scurrell Monday when he told a delegation of merchants:

IGNORE SAANICH

"You can ignore the shopping centre in Saanich because the biggest development of a shopping centre is going to be in the city. That's definite."

Questioned later, the mayor said he was just making a general observation on trade potentialities of the city—but he said it with a smile.

The reference to Saanich was directed at a proposal by Dominion Construction Ltd. to build a multi-million-dollar shopping centre on the site of the Saanich municipal yard at Douglas and the Island Highway.

Although those in the know would not reveal any details of the potential city development, there is solid ground for rumors circulating among businessmen that an announcement will be made within weeks.

Site of the development probably would be on city-owned property, bringing city council into the deal. Almost automatically the Capital Region Planning Board would become involved in negotiations.

One of the favorite sites being mentioned by rumors is the City Hall property, about the last big block of land available in the central area.

Council was willing to sell the hall to Woodward Stores Ltd. when that company proposed establishing a huge store in the downtown area last winter. But the deal fell through when the company was unable to obtain additional property in the area.

The word is that a number of nationally-known stores are involved in negotiations on the deal, but planning is so secret that even their store managers have not been informed.

If it goes through, the development would be a giant addition to other developments in the construction and planning stages.

Canada Safeway Ltd. is building a shopping centre at Fairfield and St. Charles.

Dominion Stores Ltd., which holds three properties in Victoria, is reported definitely planning erection of a large shopping centre on Hillside near Shelbourne now that it has almost completed a number of projects in Vancouver.

The other properties it holds are located on Fort near the Oak Bay Junction and between Douglas and Burnside.

WINNER of the $250 Hiram A. Carney B.C. Government Employees' Association scholarship for 1958 is Susan Batterbury, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Batterbury, 5345 Parker, and a Royal Oak Junior-Senior High School student.

NAVAL PROBE INTO FRIGATE MISHAP ENDED

Enquiry into the accident to HMCS Beacon Hill in Vancouver harbor Aug. 23 has been completed by a three-man naval board here.

The report is now in the hands of the Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, and his staff officers, who will decide if further investigation is necessary.

Beacon Hill backed into the piling of the burned-out CPE Pier D when leaving her mooring in the harbor. Damage was sustained to propellers, and she was brought to Esquimalt under tow.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Douglas Brian Grover, 1029 Johnson, $25 for violation of driver's licence restrictions.

David Llewellyn Jones, 635 Kelvin, $15 for driving without an emergency brake.

Rodney Wells, 869 Humboldt, $20 for acting as a chauffeur without a licence and $15 for operating a truck with an overhanging load without a red flag.

John David Jones, 50 Government, $10 for failing to obey the direction of a traffic-controlling officer.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Restrictions on garden watering in Saanich were lifted Monday night.

Saanich council imposed the restrictions in August because of the long dry spell.

Council ended the restrictions after municipal engineer Neville Life reported there was no longer a water shortage.

William Draper, 72, of 434 Quebec, and Frederick Hobson, 55, Albany, Hotel, are both reported in good condition at Jubilee Hospital today after receiving head cuts in a tumble down stairs at Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Club about midnight Monday.

Comptroller-treasurer John Tribe has been appointed by Saanich council to represent the municipality on the Community Chest.

Victoria Fire Chief James Bayliss has been named B.C. vice-president of the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs, city fire wardens committee was informed Monday.

Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society will hold a dance for members and friends at 9 p.m. Friday at McMorran's Pavilion, Cordova Bay.

Meeting of the Shipwrights, Joiners and Wood Caulkers Industrial Union Local 9 will be held 7:30 p.m. today at 715 Johnson Street.

Bernard Sam, 836 Balmoral, was examined for a hip injury at St. Joseph's Hospital shortly after noon today following an industrial accident at Ogden Point, where he was employed.

Vancouver Island Building and Construction Trades Council will meet at 8 tonight in room 101, 615 Pandora.

SHOPPING GUIDE

What's New in the Shops? —This Gay Italian Ware!

By PENNY SAVER

Italian pottery is so-o-o beautiful, especially if it's elegant looking and yet practical! I've found sets of this lovely ware in a deep robin egg blue shade.

In the collection there are hors-d'oeuvre platters, chip-dip servers and bowls. Reasonable in price they are too... so why not give one to the bride and groom or to a birthday celebrant? Cost of the pottery starts at $6.50.

Also from that colorful country Italy, come all wool printed scarves. They're not just ordinary squares, these soft accessory pieces... oh no! Rich and smart looking for wearing with winter suits and dresses, they'll be a treat to wear when winter breezes blow!

A delightful gift for any fashion-wise woman, the scarves are selling at $3.95.

China salad bowls as gay and colorful as a garden in full bloom are now in town! The fluted edged dishes and plates are attractively hand painted with brilliant hued vegetable and floral arrangements. To make the set complete, the serving spoon and fork have matching china handles. The price is low... only $3.95.

Aluminum is a popular metal for household ware because it's easily washed, light in weight and thoroughly attractive for most occasions. Take the aluminum cocktail trays for instance.

What would be nicer at your next party, than to serve refreshments from one of these good looking platters? The price of these long lasting items starts at $8.50.

Looking for something a little different? Then call me at 2-3131, I can tell you where they're to be found.

On Etiquette

Repaying party debts:

My mother, who is of the "old school," insists that dinner invitations must be repaid within a month. We haven't the means to entertain frequently, so this would be rather hard on our budget. Must a party be repaid that quickly, and in kind? Couldn't a dinner be repaid by an invitation to some other kind of informal party even several weeks later?

Louise Davis answers:

Many etiquette standards that existed during the days of the "old school" have changed to adjust to current times. The basic meaning hasn't changed, but the ways of accomplishment have. Families can't go in the red to conform to such archaic rules, so they necessarily pare down their entertaining expenses even to zero if they must. People aren't so hide-bound as they once were. They are very understanding about this repayment rule, for there isn't anyone who isn't aware of the high cost of living and taxes. One shouldn't think of repaying a dinner, but rather of repaying hospitality whether it is "come for a cup of tea, an evening of bridge or a formal dinner." Some are lucky enough to entertain lavishly. But they all have friends who can't, and if they are thoughtful and understanding, they would never expect their less affluent friends to feel such social obligations by returning the favor in kind. There are always substitutes. Real friendships can't be measured by the kind of parties they give.

Pair Wed At Naden

The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Rhodes, Miss Eileen Priscilla Rhodes became the bride of John Briggs Elder in a ceremony Saturday evening in HMCS Naden Chapel, Esquimalt.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kay of Vancouver and the bride's parents' home is on Oakmount Road, Victoria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon lace and net gown over pink taffeta with pink cummerbund and bustle. A soft pink veil cascaded from her tiara of pale pink seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and Stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Rhodes, sister of the bride was her only attendant. She wore a paper taffeta dress and white accessories. Flower girl Sharon Rhodes wore a yellow frock. Best man was Harold Carns and ushers were Alan Rhodes and Don Stillman.

Grant Fairley proposed the toast at a reception in the Business and Professional Women's Club.

For a honeymoon to Seattle and Portland, the bride wore a beige worsted suit with mink collar. Her accessories were in copper tones and she had an orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home at 280 Nicola Place, Victoria.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Have You Been Fudging?
Exercises Will Slim Waist

A waist is a waste When fat and pudgy! Maybe you've been Much too fudgy.

How "corny" can one get? It is no effort at all for me. Anyhow I am having fun and hope you are also. To get down to real business, fudge and such foods add something to our waistlines (too much) and little to our egos.

Let's face it! There is nothing which makes a woman look younger and slimmer than a slim waist. This makes her feel younger, too. Yet this is one of the first places in which we are apt to thicken up. You can carry quite a bit of weight in the hips and still have a lovely waistline. Here are some exercises which are most effective.

1. Lie on the floor on your back. Arms rest on the floor extending straight out from the armpits, palms toward the floor. Raise the right leg up to right angles to the body. Lower right leg and touch the floor on the outside of your left leg. Return right leg to upward position and lower to the floor. This time raise your left leg to upward right angles to the body position, and lower it, touching the floor on the outside of your right leg. Continue, alternating right and left. Keep both knees stiff throughout this exercise and touch the floor as far away from the opposite leg as possible.

2. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms in the same position. Keep the knees stiff as you roll from side to side. Make the roll as big as you can.

3. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Take a cane or a broom handle, one end in each hand. Let your arms hang in front of you. Raise the handle overhead. Stretch up—up as high as you can. Bend trunk and touch feet with the handle. Again raise the arms overhead and stretch upward. Lower arms. Continue.

4. Same starting position. Bend the trunk and touch the right end of the broom handle to the left foot. Raise trunk and raise arms forward shoulder height. This time touch the left end of the broom handle to the right toe. Raise trunk and arms. Continue, alternating right and left.

If you would like to have my tested waist-slimming exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For eight years I was connected with social welfare work and have helped hundreds of people with their problems, but I can't seem to solve my own. I am married to a woman who is a good wife and mother but I don't love her. I love another woman who works with me. We've tried to break off but can't live without each other. Should we spend the rest of our lives living a lie, or should we break up our families and live decently together?

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED: Romances of this type are too hot not to cool down. Use a little self-discipline and practice what you preach.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a problem. He is a 16-year-old boy. Nobody noticed him until I noticed him... and then he got stuck-up because everybody noticed him and now he doesn't notice me. I would like to get him back. Please tell me how I can do it. Thank you. NOT NOTICED

DEAR NOT: Go out of your way NOT to notice him. If others noticed him only because YOU noticed him, they will quit noticing him... and when nobody is noticing—grab him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15, but am very mature for my age. I go with a boy who is 21. My mother doesn't care for him because he doesn't like to dress up. He wears jeans and doesn't even own a pair of dress pants. When I date him I have to lie about who I am going with, and he sends somebody else to the door to get me. I don't like sneaking around, but there is no other way to get to see him. Can you help us solve our problem? He is a very nice boy.

P AND H
DEAR P AND H: A "very nice boy" doesn't send somebody else to the door to pick up his girl. If you don't know better at 15—he should know better at 21. He's not as nice as you think he is.

DEAR ABBY: I know this is none of my business, but I am very curious. Although your name is certainly DUTCH, I have the feeling that you are of LATIN origin. Am I right? CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Go to the foot of the class.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my late thirties and for the last three years have been keeping company with a stubborn bachelor of 60 who has quite a bit of money. The mutual friend who introduced us said if I played my cards right I could have him, but I don't know what I am doing wrong. He buys me Sunday supper and takes me to a show, but I'm not any closer to marriage now than I was three years ago.

Should I look for a man closer to my age even if he has less money? I wouldn't have wasted time on this one if he was poor.

DISCOURAGED
DEAR DISCOURAGED: Three years is long enough. Keep your eyes open for somebody else—and you'd be wiser to count his YEARS—not his MONEY.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

BROILED EGGPLANT

Eggplant has an altogether different taste when broiled this way: Slice 1 medium eggplant lengthwise, soak the slices in salted water 10 or 15 minutes; then drain. Arrange the slices in a large shallow roasting pan and, using a pastry brush, spread with half of the following mixture: ½ teaspoon garlic powder, 1 teaspoon salt, a pinch of marjoram or oregano, ¼ cup Spanish olive oil and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Place 2 inches below the broiler unit, cook until lightly browned, turn over, spread with remaining olive oil mixture, and brown on the other side. One eggplant makes 6 to 8 servings.

CLIMBERS RUSH TO AID STRICKEN CITY DOCTOR

Red China Must Renounce Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles hinted today that the United States is ready to offer concessions if Red China will renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles told a press conference he could not go into details in advance of expected diplomatic talks with Red China at Warsaw.

At the same time, Dulles emphasized again that the U.S. believes it is essential to the free world's "defence posture" in the Far East to maintain a firm stand against Red Chinese threats to conquer Nationalist-held islands in the Formosa Straits.

Dulles indicated that if Red China were to attack today, the U.S. would help the Nationalist defenders, at first logistically and later with American fighting men if the Nationalists were unable to beat back the Communist invaders.

But Dulles refused to spell out precisely what the U.S. would do in any given circumstance.

And he stressed that despite the tension he expects no war. He acknowledged, however, that the situation could be compared with Korea and the blockade of Berlin.

Dulles told reporters U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw got in touch today with Red China's Ambassador Wang Pingnan. He said Beam told Wang the U.S. was ready at any time to start talking.

No precise date was suggested. In reply to a question Dulles said the U.S. would seek agreement along detailed specific lines instead of along general lines as in previous fruitless talks with Red China.

Evacuation of Islands Queried

Dulles said that if the Chinese Reds agreed to a meaningful renunciation of force, that would alter the situation. Consequences would flow from this, but he could not spell them out in advance because they involved relations with the rights of an ally—Nationalist China.

Dulles was asked whether the U.S. would recommend evacuation of Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands held by Nationalist China if the Peking regime agreed to renounce force.

He replied that the U.S. could not itself negotiate the future of the offshore islands since they belong to Nationalist China. But he said a Red Chinese renunciation of force, if effective and dependable, would certainly be a new element.

Dulles also said:

1. Whether U.S. warships conveying Nationalist supplies would fire back at any Communist assault on them would depend upon whether the attack was accidental or deliberate. If deliberate, the U.S. ships could be expected to take some counter action.

2. United Nations action might be useful to ease Formosa tensions. But he noted Communist China refused four years ago to accept intervention on the grounds the Formosa dispute was a purely internal matter.

3. As of this time, the president has not decided irrevocably to fight for the offshore islands.

Reds Still Pouring Shells on Quemoy

Meanwhile the Communist bombardment of Quemoy crashed on today.

The Nationalist defence minister said the Reds fired a record 53,000 shells at Quemoy in 10 hours 47 minutes up to 12:20 a.m. today.

Then shelling slackened off to sporadic gunfire that continued until dawn, stopped for almost

Democratic Sweep Key Loss for Ike

(From Times News Services) President Eisenhower today hailed the victory of the Democratic Party in the Maine elections as a Republican Party beating there is no use trying to disguise.

Eisenhower's reaction of disappointment to the victory of Governor Edmund S. Muskie over the incumbent Republican F. E. Payne, was reported by Press Secretary James Hagerty. Democrats in the state won a United States Senate seat for the first time in 47 years. They also retained the governorship and scored three other major triumphs.

The outcome dealt a great blow to Republican hopes for recapturing control of Congress, but Hagerty said Eisenhower hopes "it may help a little in making everybody work a little harder for the November elections."

Hagerty replied "I don't know—I haven't any comment" when asked what effect, if any, the

Eddie-Debbie Marriage In Trouble

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Trouble developed today in the marriage of Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds, presumably because of Elizabeth Taylor.

Fisher returned home from New York and after a two-hour "family discussion" with Debbie this joint statement was issued: "We are having a misunderstanding. We hope to work it out. We have nothing further to say."

In recent days there have been recurrent reports that Fisher was becoming romantically interested in the glamorous young widow of show producer Mike Todd. They have been frequently dining and dancing together in New York.

POTENTIAL BOMB

Tswassen Beach Backed as Site

LADNER, B.C. (CP) — Social Credit MLA George Massey and the Delta Board of Trade have endorsed a proposal to have Tswassen Beach developed as the mainland terminal of the projected B.C. government ferry service to Vancouver Island.

Tswassen Beach is off Georgia Strait, five miles south of Ladner and four miles north of Point Roberts. The provincial government is called for tenders for construction of ferries to service the proposed new route. The Vancouver Island terminal of the ferry service would be Swartz Bay.

13 Die as Jets Crash at Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A B-52 jet bomber sliced into the side of another at sundown Monday night and both crashed in flames near a busy highway. Thirteen of the 16 men aboard were killed.

A 200-pound chunk of landing gear sailed through the air, smashed through a service station sign and skidded to rest on the shoulder of No. 2 Highway, a main link between Spokane and Seattle.

The $8,000,000 B-52s, prime atom bomb carriers of the Strategic Air Command, were making routine landings at Fairchild air force base when they collided about 1,500 feet over the highway.

Joe Martella, a service station attendant, said both planes were turning at the time.

"I looked up when I heard a tremendous roar from the engines of one plane," he said. "The pilot seemed to be trying to get out of the way. Then they hit. The wing of one hit the other right behind the cockpit and it looked like it was cut in two."

"It scared the pants off me," said the station owner, Mike Anderson, who for a few terrifying seconds sat atop a potential bomb.

The station, with 12,000 gallons of gasoline in tanks below the pavement, was scarcely 40 yards away from the pile of burning plane wreckage.

A 200-pound chunk of landing gear splintered a big hole supporting his service station sign, bounced between two rows of gasoline pumps and skidded to a stop next to the busy Seattle-Spokane highway just at the 6 o'clock rush hour.

"I ran for that ditch over there and jumped in, because I knew that if that fire ever got into these tanks, this whole thing would go sky high," Martella said.

There were three piles of burning wreckage, and they lit up the sky for miles around. A mammoth traffic jam developed — with part of the wreckage a morbid roadside attraction.

'Copter Forced Back By Fog at Plateau

A helicopter today was turned back by heavy fog in the Forbidden Plateau area in an attempt to rescue a Victoria hiker stricken with acute appendicitis.

A ground search party of nine airmen from the RCAF Comox base, and one RCMP constable, left at 1 p.m. in an attempt to bring the stricken man out by land.

The party reached Forbidden Plateau lodge at 2:05 p.m., to proceed on foot from that point.

He is Dr. John Redford, 30, a recent graduate of Mayb Clinic, now attending Washington State College. In Victoria, he and his wife were visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Redford, 105 Beach Drive.

Dr. Redford and his brother, Hamish, went hiking on the plateau Sunday, and while at Mackenzie Lake, about 18 miles west of Courtenay, high in the Forbidden Plateau area, John was stricken.

BECAME WORSE

Monday his attack became worse. By good fortune another hiking party of three UBC students, Ruth Orton, Phyllis Calvert, 3107 Balfour, and Pat Gill, all of Victoria, came upon them. Miss Orton and Miss Calvert are student nurses.

They stayed with John at a cabin near the lake while Hamish and Miss Gill tramped the seven miles out to Forbidden Plateau Lodge for help.

They reached the lodge at 4 a.m. today.

... stricken with appendicitis

RCMP at Courtenay were informed, and they requested Okanagan Helicopters in Vancouver to send a machine to Dr. Redford's rescue.

The 'copter was escorted across Georgia Strait by an RCAF Canso, and landed at Comox air base. It took off at 11 a.m., with pilots Bob Poole at the controls, and Sgt. Neil Lacroix, RCAF, as guide.

At 11:20 a.m., the machine passed over Forbidden Plateau Lodge, but visibility was so bad the pilot could not proceed.

He returned to Comox at 11:40 a.m., and arrangements were made immediately to start a ground rescue.

Two Injured in Fire Aboard HMCS Cayuga

Fire in the No. 1 boiler room of HMCS Cayuga shortly after 6 a.m. today resulted in injuries to two petty officers in the engine room of the destroyer.

Breaking away from exercises in the area, the Cayuga rushed the injured men to the Nanaimo General Hospital.

Injured were: PO Gerald McDormand, 40, of 406 Prileane Crescent, Belmont, and PO William Robert Osecki, 28, of 901 Metcalf Street.

Naval medical authorities

here report the burns were not described as serious.

An ambulance was dispatched from the local naval base to bring the two men to the HMCS Naden Hospital today.

The destroyer continued with her exercises after the mercy mission and will return to Esquimalt Wednesday at 3.30 p.m.

EIGHT KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES PEAK

TOKYO (AP) — A four-engine plane of an American charter airline crashed into the mountains southwest of Tokyo today while carrying U.S. military cargo. All eight persons aboard were believed killed.

The plane was nearing the end of a flight from Travis air force base, in California, to Tokyo. The Super Constellation had been chartered by the U.S. Military Air Transport Service from the Flying Tiger Line of Burbank, Calif.

Canadian Fishermen Must Quit

Canadian sockeye fishermen, after reaping what will almost certainly be a record crop, have been ordered off the fishing grounds as of 6 p.m. today to enable their U.S. counterparts to catch up.

Decision was made by the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries commission, which strives each year to equalize the catches of Canadian and U.S. fishermen.

Canadians are currently 539,000 fish ahead of the Americans, for a total of over 4,000,000 fish — the greatest catch since the Hell's Gate canyon slide of 1913, possibly the greatest ever.

Closure to Canadians is tantamount to the end of the season, as the run will likely peter out before the closure is lifted.

Waters closed are those on the Canadian side of Juan de Fuca Strait, and the area between Victoria and the mouth of the Fraser on the Canadian side of the boundary.

(From Times News Services)
NEWARK, N.J.—Police dispatcher Frank Hughes said a man called him and announced: "I want to make a complaint."

"What kind of a complaint?" asked Hughes.

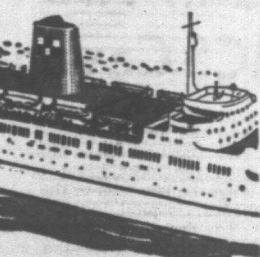

"A complaint of a breaking and entry into a safe in Dugan's. I'd have been in the blank blank thing if my drill hadn't broken," then he hung up.

Police checked the office of Dugan Bros., Incorporated. They found a hole had been smashed in the roof and the combination of the safe knocked off. There was a single drill mark on the safe.

TAMPA, Fla.—An ice pick and a cane were the weapons selected by two men in their fight for the affections of a 37-year-old woman. J. H. Paradise Monday received two ice pick wounds in the chest and Luigi Victri head cuts from the cane. Paradise is 36, Victri 74.

MINNEAPOLIS — Voter reaction to a "Coya come home" appeal is being tested in the Minnesota primary election today as Democratic Representative Coya Knutson seeks renomination for a third term. Mrs. Knutson, 45, last spring disregarded the written request of husband Andy, 50, that she give up politics and come home. Knutson is supporting Marvin Evenson, Mrs. Knutson's opponent.

Seaman Faces Formal Charge; Remand Granted

A 24-hour special guard is being kept on murder suspect Leo Anthony Mantha, 31, of 451 Superior, in the city jail as he awaits preliminary hearing.

Mantha is charged with murdering AB Aaron H. Jenkins, 23, as he slept in his bunk at RCN naval barracks, HMCS Naden early Saturday.

Jenkins died in Naden Hospital shortly after 2 a.m., of a stab wound in the upper chest. The accused, who had been employed as a tugboat worker, was formally charged in Esquimalt police court Monday.

Alan Macfarlane, appearing for Mantha, asked for a remand to next Monday afternoon on grounds he had had no opportunity to discuss the case with his client.

It was thought Mantha's preliminary would not be proceeded with until Sept. 22.

INQUEST WAIVED

An inquest into the fatality was waived Monday on instruction by the attorney-general's department.

The navy will hold a routine inquiry, without civil legal status, probably Wednesday.

Mantha was brought into the court room by an Esquimalt police constable, who has been stationed outside the suspect's cell since he was taken into custody Saturday morning.

The accused wore a white dress shirt, open at the neck, with grey slacks, and stood straight in the prisoner's box looking at Magistrate H. C. Hall. He did not speak.

Mantha's heavy, dark features did not change when the murder charge was read to him, but as he stood still his eyes blinked rapidly several times under their bushy, black brows.

The man is of stocky build, of medium height, dark complexion and has thick, black, curly hair.

Comet Clips Cairo Record As First Plane In Since Suez

CAIRO (UPI)—The first British Overseas Airways plane to land at Cairo since the 1956 Anglo-French invasion of Suez set a new record Monday.

A BOAC Comet IV jet made a test flight from London in four hours, 45 minutes. It was the first BOAC craft to land at the airport since a ban on the government-owned airline's flights was imposed in October, 1956. The United Arab Republic permitted BOAC special exemption from the ban for yesterday's first leg of a proving flight from London to Bombay and Hong Kong.

DEATH PENALTY TO 5 RUSSIANS WHO WENT NAZI

MOSCOW (AP)—Five Russians described as traitors who collaborated with the Nazis have been sentenced to death by a military tribunal in southern Russia. A sixth defendant received a 25-year prison term.

The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star said the six "renegades and degenerates" had been found after hiding out for 15 years.

The six went over to Hitler, the newspaper said, when the Nazis occupied the southwest part of Russia, and "killed and tortured hundreds of Soviet people." All the defendants pleaded guilty to the charges of war atrocities, the newspaper said, and were sentenced to face a firing squad.

BCE Bus Fare Probe Moves to Vancouver

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady will represent Greater Victoria Friday at a Public Utilities Commission meeting in Vancouver winding up its hearings of B.C. Electric Company's application for bus fare increases.

Final arguments on the application were reserved for the Vancouver meeting Monday following an all-day hearing in the Legislative Building which saw Mr. O'Grady make a vain attempt to have the company's books opened to the public.

Mr. O'Grady asked that a detailed financial report the company is compelled to make to the PUC each year should be given to all interested parties to the hearing.

BCE vice-president and solicitor, A. B. Robertson, opposed the suggestion.

SOMETHING TO HIDE?

"What have they got to hide?" asked Mr. O'Grady. "Why should they object to making a disclosure of their affairs? What is confidential about that information?"

Mr. Robertson said the report should not be made public just because it had some figures that might be relevant. That did not mean everything should be disclosed.

PUC chairman Dr. H. F. Angus said particular information could be requested. But the commission would have to give very careful consideration to any request for disclosure of the full report.

Mr. O'Grady did not press the point.

Japanese Want GI for Shooting

TOKYO (AP)—Justice Minister Kiichi Aichi said today the Japanese government will insist on jurisdiction over an American airman whose shot from a U.S. air base gate killed a Japanese student on a train.

Tokyo newspapers indicated that if the United States doesn't turn Airman Peter E. Longpre over to the Japanese, the Americans will have another Girard case on their hands.

Aichi told a cabinet meeting he didn't think the shooting occurred during "performance of official duty" although Longpre was on guard duty at the entrance of Johnson air base when his carbine went off Sunday.

The 19-year-old airman said the gun fired accidentally and he did not know it was loaded. The bullet passed through a window of a passing train and hit Sachiyo Miyamura.

The U.S. Air Force is still investigating the shooting and is holding Longpre.

Under a U.S.-Japanese agreement, offences committed by American military personnel in performance of duty come under U.S. military jurisdiction, while off-duty offences are handled by Japanese courts.

In the case of Specialist William Girard in 1957, Japan maintained similarly that although on guard duty on an army firing range, Girard was not performing his assigned duty when he shot a Japanese woman, scrap collector in the back and killed her. The U.S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Japanese jurisdiction. Girard got off with a suspended sentence.

YOU CAN AFFORD TO FORGET—IMPERIAL CAN'T

... because four generations of Canadians have come to depend on Imperial products on the road, on the farm, in the home.

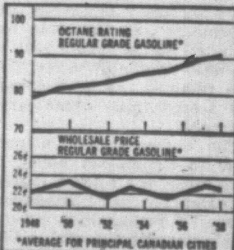

Imperial started supplying Canadians with oil products in the very early days of the industry in Canada... in fact, 1880 was the year it made its start in this business.

In most areas of Canada, it was an Imperial refinery which first began making oil products locally.

Imperial pioneered, too, in supplying

Canadians with products when and where they were needed. (As far back as 1907, Imperial opened the first service station in Canada... and perhaps in the world.)

Today, as over the past 78 years, Imperial recognizes its responsibility to bring Canadians the most modern of oil products at the lowest possible price.

minister of labor; Sir Velupillai Comararaswamy, Ceylon high commissioner (with pen); Raja Mohar, Malayan trade and industry controller, and Mirza Osman Ali Baig, Pakistan high commissioner to Canada. On extreme right is Premier Bennett.

Colorful Envoys From Afro-Asian Commonwealth Lands Visit City

Representatives of four Commonwealth countries arrived in Victoria Monday evening to pay their respects to British Columbia during her centennial celebrations.

From Ghana, the newest nation in the Commonwealth, came Hon. Ako Adjei, her labor minister, who recalled that Ghana became an independent sovereign member of the Commonwealth in March, 1957.

Malaya, which gained her independence in August of the same year, was represented by Hon. Tan Siew Sin, her minister of trade and industry, and Raja Mohar, controller to the ministry.

Pakistan, which came into being 11 years ago, is represented by her high commissioner to Canada, Mirza Osman Ali Baig; and Ceylon, by high commissioner Sir Velupillai Comararaswamy.

and Lady Comararaswamy.

Mr. Ako Adjei said Ghana is building up its prosperity through the creation of banks, hotels, shipping lines and industries.

"We are more interested in constructive development than in political theories," he said, "and we believe our future is good."

EXPORTS INCREASE

Mirza Osman Ali Baig said Pakistan's exports to Canada have increased from $300,000 in 1953 to $1,500,000 in 1958.

On the other hand, Canada exports something like $20,000,000 worth of goods to Pakistan—a country of 80,000,000 people—every year.

"We are developing industrially and we hope to export more to Canada in the years ahead," the high commissioner said.

Canada's chief imports from Pakistan include seed oil, wool, sports goods, hides, skins and leather. To Pakistan she sells mainly technical equipment.

Trade Minister Tan Siew Sin said Malaya is trying to attract capital by offering investors a "tax holiday" of from two to five years according to the amount invested.

MANY ENQUIRIES

"Our government passed a law to this effect only a few months ago," he said, "and we have already had a number of inquiries from industrialists all over the world."

"We hope you will invest in us," he smiled.

Mr. Tan Siew Sin is confident the Chinese Communist government will not attempt any invasion of Malaya.

"They know the United Nations and United States would intervene quickly and that would mean total war—which they do not want."

High Commissioner Sir Velupillai Comararaswamy and Lady Comararaswamy, of Ceylon, spoke of the hospitality shown them in Canada.

"We feel it is our second home," smiled Lady Comararaswamy, "and we have so enjoyed travelling across your wonderful country to Vancouver Island."

The distinguished visitors were welcomed to Victoria by Health Minister Eric Martin, deputy provincial secretary R. A. Pennington and L. J. Wallace, chairman of the B.C. Centennial Committee.

Later they were entertained to dinner by Premier Bennett and members of the B.C. cabinet. This morning they called on the premier at the Legislative Buildings and on Mayor Scourrah at the City Hall.

They lunched at the Union Club as guests of the Greater Victoria municipalities.

Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—The United States government has handed the Canadian government a strongly worded note of protest over the amendments to the Customs Act, passed at the last session, on the grounds that some of the provisions are a contravention of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Ambassador Livingston Merchant handed the note to Hon. Sidney Smith, secretary of state for external affairs, in Ottawa, Sept. 3. Substance of the diplomatic note of protest was conveyed orally to the Canadian government before the bill came under vigorous attack in the Commons from the Liberals and CCFers, who argued it was a violation of GATT.

Liberals sought to kill the bill, claiming that it removed Parliament's right to levy taxes, that it was contrary to Canada's treaty obligations under GATT and that it was a reversal to the old Tory protectionist policies.

There was no disclosure by the Canadian government at the time the legislation was being denounced by the opposition, that the government had received a note of protest from the U.S. This correspondent learned of the existence of the American diplomatic note Monday and its contents Tuesday.

If it is believed the U.S. government did not make the note public because it might be interpreted in some quarters as an attempt to interfere with the discussions then proceeding in the Canadian Parliament.

Convicted Slayer 12th Reprieved Under Tory Rule

OTTAWA (UPI)—The department of justice today announced that the death sentence imposed on John Krukowski, convicted of the murder of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rose Krukowski, last Jan. 31 at Sedalia, Alta., has been commuted to life imprisonment in the Saskatchewan Penitentiary.

Krukowski is the 12th person sentenced to be hanged to have his sentence commuted to life imprisonment since the Conservative government took office in June, 1957.
